Accident Occurs In Industry

Crash Injures Area Men

A 25-year-old Midland area man was seriously injured when his car, above, rammed the rear of another at a high rate of speed and overturned while the other sheared a utility pole early today in Industry.

Jack Pumphrey of Cow Hollow Rd. is in "guarded" condition at Rochester General Hospital with a back injury, abrasions of the body and lacerations.

JAMES F. Craig, 25, of Hillcrest Manor, driver of the other auto, was treated at the hospital for cuts of the left knee and hip and abrasions and bruises of the face.

Pennsylvania state police at Chippewa said both drivers were thrown out of their cars in the crash at 2:35 a. m. on Route 68 east of the Shippingport Bridge approach. Craig was headed east in a 1961 auto when struck in the rear by Pumphrey's 1959 auto.

Pumphrey's car struck the north bank, then apparently went across the roadway and overturned. Craig's car struck the utility pole, snapping it in two.

Power lines were downed when the Duquesne Light Co. pole was sheared, but there were no service interruptions because the primary lines were at the end of a circuit, a spokesman said.

There was about $300 damage to Pumphrey's car and $350 to Craig's, officers said. Midland police and Industry police assisted at the wreck scene. First aid was given to the injured by a woman physician who was passing by.

Donald Grimm, 30, of Midland Heights escaped injury when his truck struck a light pole along Route 18 at the entrance of the St. Joseph Lead Co. in Potter Township at 1 a. m.

State police said he was headed south when he lost control and the truck went off the right side of the highway, causing $650 damage to the truck and $75 damage to the pole.

Other Offer Hinted

Crucible Delays Merger Action

"Terms more favorable to all Crucible shareholders" will be sought by the directors of the specialty steel firm in a proposed acquisition offer from Whittaker Corp. of Los Angeles, Calif.

The Crucible board postponed action Friday for further study of the offer.

John C. Lobb, president, said the majority of the directors, including Norton Simon, will ask for terms assuring them of an offer equivalent in market value to that made for the 983,000 shares held by Hunt Food and Industries.

Lobb also indicated Crucible has received "feelers" from a corporation even larger than Whittaker.

He suggested one of the attractions of Crucible is a large cash surplus of about $45 million, or $10 a share, which "looks better the tighter money gets."

THE DIRECTORS said one of the objections to the Whittaker proposal was that it provided more favorable to Hunt—the largest shareholder—than to other Crucible shareholders.

Lobb told reporters, "I personally would much rather acquire than be acquired, but I think one owes it to shareholders to consider any offer substantially in excess of Crucible's stock market value."

Lobb cited the lack of specific details of organization management and continuity of the proposed combined corporation.

"My personal opinion is that as the offer now stands it would not receive approval of the required majority of Crucible shareholders or directors. That does not mean a deal is impossible however."

"I have personally received dozens of letters, phone calls and telegrams from shareholders opposing the first publicly announced offer. The latest public statement of Whittaker purports to improve the offer but it is still inadequate."

WHITTAKER HAS announced an offer to individual Crucible shareholders of $30 worth of Whittaker convertible preferred stock created with a $100 par value and yielding a 5 per cent annual dividend of $1.50, and $17.50 worth as a fractional share of Whittaker common stock. The true market value of the Whittaker common stock paid to Crucible shareholders can vary under the proposed agreement in accordance with

U.S. Aircraft Again Pound North Targets

Set Another Record On 160 Missions In South Panhandle

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes set a 1968 record for the second straight day Friday as they flew 160 missions to blast supply targets in North Vietnam's southern panhandle.

American fliers had set a record for the year Thursday when they flew 145 missions, the largest number in nearly four months.

The Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots on Friday's raids said they encountered light ground fire and evaded several anti-aircraft missiles fired at them in the coastal area between Vinh and Dong Hoi.

They hit bridges, roads, trucks and supply points in the area left open to them under President Johnson's bombing curtailment order, designed to draw Hanoi into peace talks.

The northeast monsoon over North Vietnam is almost over and with the rapidly improving weather, the number of American air strikes is expected to increase unless the President orders further curtailment.

Although Friday's 160 missions set a record for 1968, the number is well below the all-

City Remains In 6th 'Class' On Insurance

East Liverpool will remain the sixth class in a rating system used in determining fire insurance premiums, Mayor George E. Willshaw has been advised.

The rating, based on an inspection made by the American Insurance Association, continues the classification which the city has held since the last previous study in 1950. The rating numbers range from 1 to 10, which places East Liverpool slightly below the halfway point.

The inspection on which the rating is based was made in May 1967, but the mayor received the detailed report only a few days ago. The American Insurance Association is the successor to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which rated American cities for insurance purposes for many years. It has offices in New York, Chicago and San Francisco.

A letter accompanying the rating sheet explained that the Family Affair

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Graduation will be a family affair at the Randall B. Sims household.

On June 1, shortly before his 50th birthday, Sims will receive a doctorate from the University of Nebraska College of Law.

The same day his daughter, Mrs. Robert Hedgecock, will receive a bachelor of science degree in dental hygiene.

His oldest son, Stuart, will graduate from Lincoln Southeast High School, and the family's youngest, Annette, will complete ninth grade in junior high.

So that Mrs. Sims would not be left out, the family is planning to confer on her a special "master of homemaking" degree.

If South Vietnam Mobilizes

Start Of Allied Pullout Called Possible By 1969

Chief Factor Is Replacing Manpower

Present Mobilizing Proposals Seen As Falling Far Short

SAIGON (AP) — Defense Minister Nguyen Van Vy said today general mobilization of South Vietnam's manpower would allow the allies to begin a gradual troop withdrawal by the start of 1969.

Vy said such a general mobilization would have to be much more far reaching than the one now proposed.

Earlier this month, President Nguyen Van Thieu said that if the United States requests a withdrawal of its troops, "we can agree to a gradual withdrawal beginning by the end of 1968."

Since that time, Thieu has asked the legislature for the power to call general mobilization. The government has launched a program to set up local self-defense units around the country. Thieu also has announced an increase of 135,000 in armed forces strength, apart from any mobilization move.

Vy spoke earlier this week of the need to increase armed forces strength by 288,000 men.

At today's news conference, he said: "If we increase our troops by only 135,000 men as originally scheduled, or by the proposed 288,000... then there is a question of whether or not we can partially replace the allied troops."

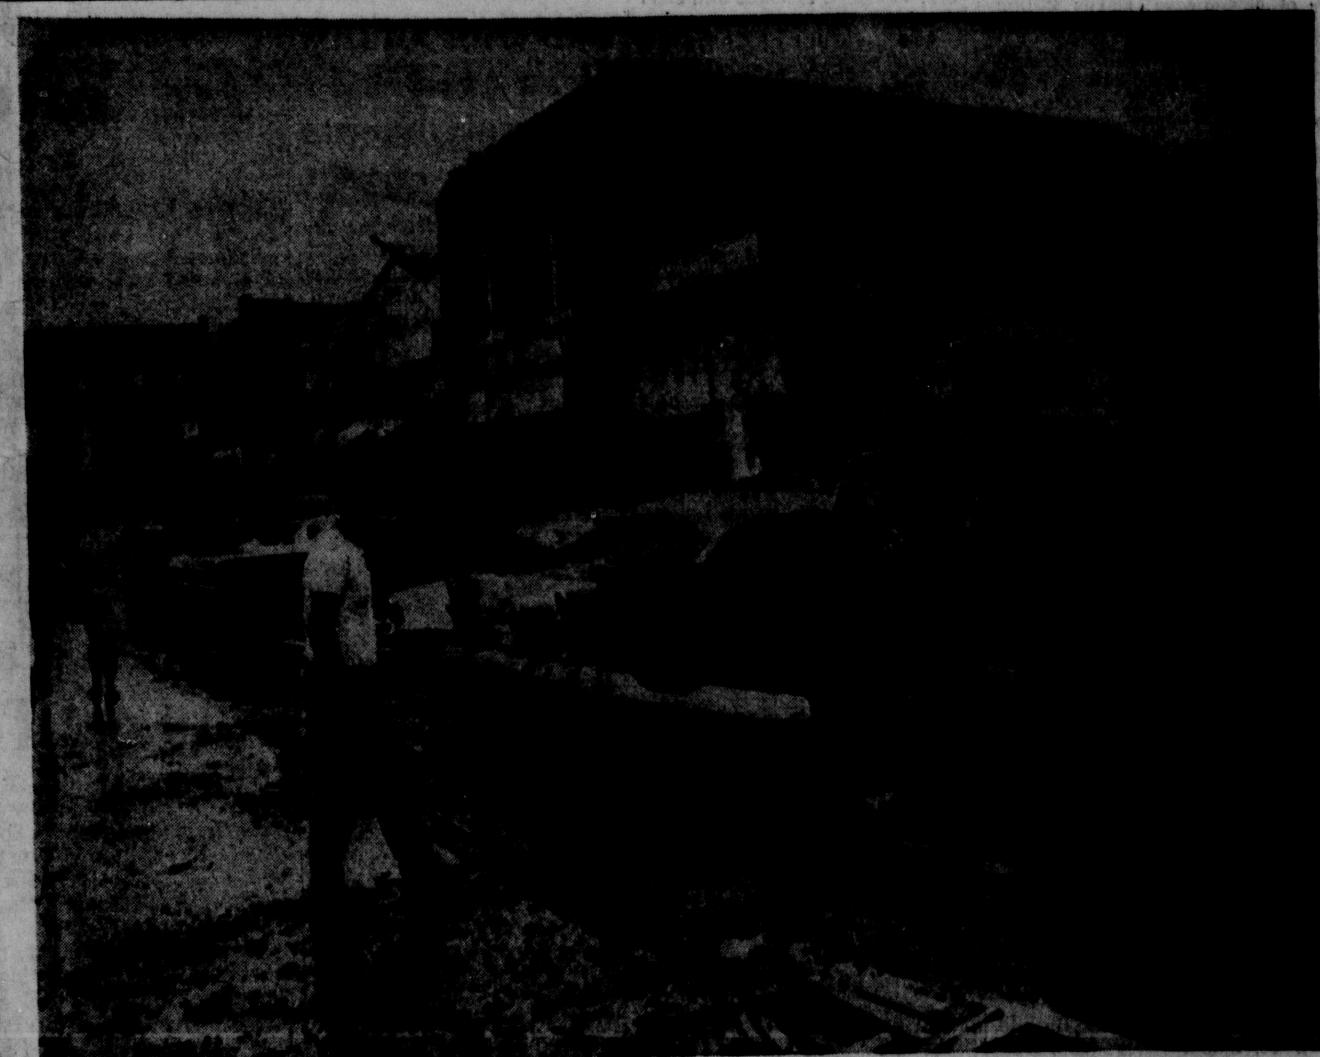

"When the general mobilization law takes effect, it will give us not only hundreds of thousands of troops, but millions, including the self-defense groups that will take over... from the regular army units guarding the towns and cities and public installations... so the regular army can carry out full time front line duty."

"Only by this means can our regular army replace a number of allied units and hopefully allow them to begin gradual withdrawal at the beginning of 1969."

The general mobilization law is being debated in both houses of the South Vietnamese legislature.

General mobilization probably would call up men between the ages of 17 and 40, and above in some cases. All reservists and veterans would be recalled. Women might also be drafted. Stringent economic measures, including limits of imports and the implementation of rationing, probably also will be put into effect.

South Vietnam's regular army now has 332,000 men. Another 346,000 are in the regional and popular forces and the civilian irregulars. Counting all types of regular army, militia, irregulars, national police and combat youth, there are almost 800,000 men under arms.

Senate Trims Defense Fund $660 Million

Leaves $21 Billion Total, $1.2 Billion Over Last Year's

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, which voted earlier this year to trim federal spending by $6 billion, has extended its economy drive to the administration's massive defense budget.

But the $660 million reduction voted Friday by a heavy 45 to 13 majority still left the military procurement authorization at a total of $21.3 billion, some $1.2 billion more than Congress appropriated last year.

After adopting the 3 per cent cut offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which did not specify where the reductions would be, the Senate passed the bill 54 to 3 and sent it on to the House. Voting against it were three Democrats: Ernest Gruening of Alaska, Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin and Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Mansfield, who took little part in the three-day debate which saw most efforts to cut the bill fail, then took the floor to denounce the bill—especially the $183.6 million for fast deployment logistic ships which had been held in the measure earlier by three votes.

"If we build these ships," he told a nearly deserted Senate, "we will be regarded more than ever as the world's policeman. We are not the world's policeman. We do not have the resources or authority to tell anyone in the world what they shall do or not do."

"We are not even able to take care of the problems we have at home," Mansfield added.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., offered the amendment to eliminate the four ships, but it was defeated 31 to 28.

Clark also tried to slash the bill by $2.3 billion, a little more than 10 per cent. That lost 44 to 12 after Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., warned that even more money would be needed for procurement later in the year.

"We have had terrific losses in Vietnam," he said, without specifying those losses. Clark had contended, "We have got to start cutting back this gargantuan military-industrial complex that has this nation by its throat."

In Arkansas Town

Twister Kills 13, Injures Scores

GREENWOOD, Ark. (AP) — A killer tornado erupted from a spring storm Friday and slashed through the business district of this western Arkansas town, causing death, scores of injuries and heavy property damage.

Thirteen persons were killed and more than 70 were hospitalized, State Police Capt. Damon Wilson said. Approximately 200 more were given emergency treatment at a first aid station in a library, another state policeman said.

A search of the rubble resumed at dawn and workers feared that more dead and injured would be found.

The area was guarded through the night by about 30 Marine reservists from Texarkana, shifted from weekend training at nearby Ft. Chaffee, and some Air Force reservists.

Every building in the main building area, which is built on a square, was damaged.

Ambulances from several cities in the area converged on Greenwood to carry the injured to hospitals in Fort Smith, 18 miles north.

Bill Kennedy, a Fort Smith Times Record newsmen, who flew over Greenwood two hours after the storm struck, said the path of destruction was about 200 feet wide and half a mile long.

The storm brushed through a residential area in southwest Greenwood before it slammed into the business district and then moved on to the northeast. Most of the dead were found in the first area hit.

Communications were knocked out and traffic jams developed on highways leading out of Greenwood, hampering rescue efforts.

The rampaging twister was spawned by a squall line that dumped rain on eastern Oklahoma and western Arkansas late Friday.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said tornadoes also struck near Waveland, Booneville, Dardanelle and Clarksville, all towns north and east of Greenwood, but the only deaths and injuries reported were at Greenwood.

No estimate of the property damage was available but the Weather Bureau said the twister was the most destructive Arkansas has seen since 1952 when a March storm leveled Judsonia in central Arkansas, killing 111.

U.S. Awaits Hanoi Bid On Contact Sites

Ready To Consider New Ones North Vietnam Suggests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Johnson administration policymakers say the United States—which already has proposed 15 sites for initial contacts with North Vietnam—will consider any new sites Hanoi suggests.

The statement by U.S. authorities, who declined to be identified, came after the United States announced it has notified North Vietnam that Warsaw is not acceptable for initial talks because Poland has given military assistance to Hanoi.

The U.S. position was outlined in response to a statement by the North Vietnam foreign ministry, broadcast by Hanoi radio, that accused the United States of delaying talks between the two sides and asked for formal answer to Hanoi's choice of Warsaw.

The Hanoi statement drew a stiff rejoinder from Washington that communications between the two countries should be through private and official communication channels and not through newspaper headlines.

Some American authorities said privately that North Vietnam's insistence on Warsaw was the result of fear of Communist China's anger over the possibility of negotiations with the Americans. U.S. and Red Chinese envoys have met privately in Warsaw for 10 years on an irregular basis, without solving any outstanding differences between the two countries.

State Department officials cited specific incidents of Polish support for North Vietnam which they claimed would rule out the Polish capital as an impartial location for talks.

The FBI action today added formality to what was already fact—the escapee from the Missouri state penitentiary is the nation's most intensely hunted man in years.

U.S. Awaits Hanoi Bid On Contact Sites

Ready To Consider New Ones North Vietnam Suggests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Johnson administration policymakers say the United States—which already has proposed 15 sites for initial contacts with North Vietnam—will consider any new sites Hanoi suggests.

The statement by U.S. authorities, who declined to be identified, came after the United States announced it has notified North Vietnam that Warsaw is not acceptable for initial talks because Poland has given military assistance to Hanoi.

The U.S. position was outlined in response to a statement by the North Vietnam foreign ministry, broadcast by Hanoi radio, that accused the United States of delaying talks between the two sides and asked for formal answer to Hanoi's choice of Warsaw.

For Action On Tax Increase

Financial Crisis Warning Puts Congress On 'Spot'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pressure is building on Congress to break a logjam and enact President Johnson's proposed income tax hike amid some signs it may be moving—although not so fast as the administration would like.

Chairman William McCleskey Martin Jr. of the Federal Reserve Board applied new pressure Friday by coupling a plea for immediate action on the tax boost with a warning that "we are in the midst of the worst financial crisis we have had since 1931."

Martin spoke to the American Society of Newspaper Editors as the effects of a one-half per cent raise, to 5½ per cent, in the discount rate were spreading over the country in the form of increased interest costs for bank loans.

The stock market, already shaken by the discount rate increase, which tends to slow business and private spending, reacted to Martin's speech with a sharp drop.

At his home in Kensett, Ark., Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee—where the proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge has been bottled up for months—refused comment on the redoubt move and the statements of Martin and others.

The interest hike was general.

The Rev. Gaylord W. Cox of the Grace Baptist Temple of East Liverpool will officiate.

Burial will be in Jackson Cemetery, St. Clair Township. Mrs. Morehead was born in East Liverpool Dec. 9, 1924, a daughter of the late Clark and Anna Kent Morehead. She had resided here her lifetime.

She is survived by a daughter, Miss Doris Jean Morehead of Wellsville; three brothers, Ed Morehead, both of East Liverpool, and Carl Morehead of Buffalo, N. Y., and a sister, Mrs. Paul (Mary) Buzzard of East Liverpool. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday afternoon and night.

Mrs. Clifford Crofts

Mrs. Helen H. Crofts, 69, of Willoughby, a native of East Liverpool, died this morning at the Homestead Nursing Home in Painesville, where she had been a patient for two weeks. She was born Nov. 28, 1898, a daughter of the late Norman G. McBane and Ella Chalm McBane. She left here in 1924.

In addition to her husband, Clifford E. Crofts, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Louis Gianoletti of Wickliffe; two sisters, Miss Gertrude McBane of Salem and Mrs. Eleanor Redmond of Ravenna; a brother, Donald McBane of Warren, and four grandchildren. She was preceded in death by two brothers, Vance R. McBane and Earlton McBane.

Services will be held Tuesday at the Brunner Funeral Home in Mentor, where friends may call Sunday and Monday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Perry McCaskey

LISBON — Perry McCaskey, 63, of Metuchen, N.J., a native of Lisbon, died early Friday at J. F. K. Hospital in Edison, N. J., after a short illness.

He was born April 2, 1905, in Madison Township, a son of the late David Marcus and Minnie Crofts McCaskey, and was graduated from East Liverpool High School.

Mr. McCaskey was an electrical worker. He resided in the New England states most of his life and was a member of Shrine Crescent Temple of the Masons at Trenton.

He leaves his widow, Mary, at home, and two brothers, Leonard A. McCaskey of Negley and Walter H. McCaskey of Lisbon.

Services will be at 9:30 a.m. Monday in the Runyon Mortuary at Metuchen.

James Birkhimer

Two 'Not Guilty' Pleas Are Filed In Arraignments

LISBON — Two men indicted secretly this week by the Columbiana County grand jury had an early arraignment Thursday afternoon because their counsel will be away April 29 when other defendants are to make their pleas.

Glenn C. Garvin, 40, of Smiths Ferry RD 1, charged with a traffic death, and Jack McKee, 57, of New Waterford RD 1, charged with larceny, pleaded not guilty before Judge Joel H. Sharp in Common Pleas Court. They are free under bond.

The grand jury indicted Garvin in connection with the death of Lawrence Mathes, 62, of Dresden Ave., East Liverpool. Struck Feb. 3 while walking at 6th St. and St. Clair Ave., East Liverpool, the pedestrian died Feb. 3.

McKee and two Salem men, named yesterday, are accused of stealing a neon sign March 1 from Jackson's Restaurant in Salem.

Court Sustains Plea's Dismissal

LISBON — The Seventh District Court of Appeals has sustained the state's motion to dismiss the appeal of Timothy Galloway, 29, who is serving a penitentiary sentence for a Wellsville robbery.

At the same time, the court overruled the defendant's motion for leave to appeal from the sentence and judgment dated Oct. 18, 1966. He claimed his constitutional rights were abridged and asked that the sentence be set aside.

The Appellate Court took the case under study here March 18.

The former Waynesburg, Pa., resident and his brother-in-law, William Icenhour, 32, of Aliquippa, were convicted of a robbery Jan. 2, 1968, at the 12th St. market.

They were sentenced to 10 to 25 years.

New Canadian Leader Due To Call Election

OTTAWA (AP) — Pierre Elliott Trudeau becomes Canada's prime minister today in a changing of the guard within the ruling Liberal party. He is expected to call an election soon to seek a new mandate for the party.

Reliable informants said Trudeau may announce a date for general elections within the next few days.

The Liberals chose Trudeau two weeks ago to succeed retiring Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, 70.

By taking office today, Trudeau can call an election as soon as June 17, when four by-elections already are scheduled.

After Washington Speeches

Editors Warm To Nixon But Cool To Rockefeller

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon has won warm praise from the American Society of Newspaper Editors — a group that gave only perfunctory applause to Nelson A. Rockefeller the day before.

Editors interviewed at random following Nixon's Friday appearance at the ASNE convention called the former vice president warm, witty and winning.

They voiced less kind words about the Thursday speech by Rockefeller, the New York governor and Nixon's potential rival for the Republican presidential nomination.

"Nixon made a much better impression here than Gov. Rockefeller," said Vermont Royster, editor of the Wall Street Journal. "I'm sure it's the sentiment of the editors generally — he was much impressive."

Nixon stood behind a lone microphone on a short, red-carpeted runway raised above the luncheon tables. The setting had the air of a night club performance — and, in show business parlance, he wowed them.

The editors interrupted with solid applause more than a dozen times. They laughed frequently at his jests and at the end they accorded Nixon a lusty and lengthy standing ovation.

In contrast, Rockefeller's luncheon address on urban problems Thursday was digested in silence. The audience rose at the start, but not the finish, when the editors accorded him lukewarm applause.

Four Men Arrested For Bank Robbery

CLEVELAND (AP) — FBI agents and Mansfield police have arrested four men on bank robbery charges in connection with the holdup of the Central Security National Bank in Lorain.

More than $7,000 was taken from the bank Monday by a band of five youthful bandits. The FBI said some money was recovered.

Arrested Friday were Parnell Jefferson, 19, Clarence Simmons, 20, J.D. Thomas, 23, and Tommy Lee Holt, 22, all of Mansfield.

'Bullying' Brings Added Jail Term

A 17-year-old East Liverpool youth serving seven weeks in detention for thefts from a coal mine had 30 days added to his sentence Thursday for bullying juveniles at the County Jail in Lisbon.

"Put him in with the general prisoners," Judge Louis Tobin of Juvenile Court told sheriff's deputies, who brought the youth and a Leontonia boy, 17, from the jail to court. Judge Tobin heard testimony the two were dominating the juvenile section of the jail.

The East Liverpool youth was due for release May 14 — his 18th birthday. He was sentenced March 26 for stealing items from the Pegg Run Coal Co. in Green Township, Beaver County.

The judge made no disposition Thursday in the case of the Leontonia youth, an "incorrigible," waiting transfer to permanent custody of the Ohio Youth Commission.

"You as much as touch another of those boys up there and you'll go to Mansfield (the state reformatory) until you're 21," the judge declared.

Judge Ponders New Trial Plea

LISBON — Clair Cunningham, 58, of 114 E. 2nd St., East Liverpool, convicted March 20 of a charge of harboring and concealing a felon, is awaiting a decision on his motion for a new trial.

G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool, defense counsel, argued the motion Thursday before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard in Common Pleas Court. The judge reserved a decision.

Counsel said publicity Cunningham received in a federal case just before trial at Lisbon prejudiced the jury.

Cunningham was among eight persons the FBI charged with transporting women across state lines for prostitution.

A jury found Cunningham guilty of harboring and concealing William L. (Larry) Nesbitt, 19, of Lisbon, who has pleaded guilty to four East Liverpool area robberies.

Two Fined By Herron In Traffic Violations

NEW CUMBERLAND — Two were fined in Squire John D. Herron's court Friday.

Larry D. Sedors, 28, of 254 Seneca St., Weirton, was assessed $100 and costs and given a 48-hour jail sentence for driving while his license was suspended. He also was fined $10 and costs for driving with an expired inspection sticker. He was cited by state police.

Dale T. Johnson, 23, of Chester RD 1 was fined $25 and costs for driving with no license plate and $10 and costs for driving with defective equipment. He was arrested by sheriff's deputies.

Auto, Truck Hit On Rt. 164

Five persons were taken to Salem City Hospital — one being admitted — after a car-truck mishap Friday on Route 164 near Lisbon, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reports. "Fairly good" is Mrs. Agnes Bach, 21, of Salineville RD 2, who suffered a fractured right ankle.

Treated were her son, George, 5, minor injuries; Gurlene Ketchum, 24, of Hanoverton, contusions of the right arm, and Ronald Ketchum, 2, contusion of the forehead. David Ketchum, 3, escaped injury, hospital officials reported. All were in the Bach car.

Officers said the mishap occurred at 10:30 a.m. about two miles south of Lisbon when a 1966 coach, driven by Mrs. Bach, crashed into the side of a 1964 dump truck operated by John McCauley, 40, of 600 Broadway Ave., Wellsville.

The northbound truck had pulled onto the berm on the west side of the road to execute a right turn and was recrossing the roadway when it was struck by the northbound Bach auto, the patrol reported.

The car was damaged heavily, officers said.

McCauley was cited by the patrol for improper turning.

A Springfield man was cited yesterday after his car crashed into an embankment near Unity.

Officers said Elmer W. Cox, 42, was charged with driving while intoxicated, after his 1953 coach, northbound on Route 165, left the roadway, went into a ditch and struck an embankment.

The car received slight damage as the result of the mishap which took place near the northern corporation limits at 3:35 p.m., the patrol reported.

Youth Escapes Again, This Time At Capital

A 14-year-old East Liverpool boy who fled handcuffed from a Juvenile Court probation officer at Lisbon April 8 escaped Friday from the Ohio Youth Commission at Columbus.

Columbiana County Juvenile Court received notice yesterday that the boy got away about 6 a.m.

Judge Louis Tobin had sentenced him to permanent custody of the youth commission for repeated violations of probation terms set in several offenses.

The boy's April 8 escape lasted about 14 hours. He managed to slip one cuff, discard the restraining belt and walk to East Liverpool, with the cuffs hidden by a shirt sleeve.

The sheriff's department and East Liverpool police apprehended him.

ly attributed by the Federal Reserve Board to inaction on the tax bill.

Mills did say, however, that he plans to resume discussions with the House Appropriations Committee when he returns to Capitol Hill Monday.

Heads of the taxing and spending committees have been trying to work out a combination of tax increases and limitations on government spending during the year beginning July 1 and in future years as well.

Mills again, in an Arkansas speech, insisted on holding the line against increased outlays.

Congressional sources said the immediate difficulty is on the spending side, with the Appropriations Committee so far unable to agree on budget cuts as deep as Mills advocates.

The administration, which for a time had resisted too severe trimming of the budget, was reportedly resigned now to going along with almost anything Congress might exact as the price of a tax increase.

the variation of the Dow Jones Industrial Average from 890 over an unspecified period prior to closing the merger deal.

Lobb pointed out that there is no established market value for Whittaker preferred stock since it has never been traded. Whittaker common, he pointed out, was trading at $75 on April 16 when Whittaker announced the offer. The Dow Jones Industrial Average closed at 906 on that date.

In addition, a contingency reserve fund of Whittaker preferred and common stock would be established in the same proportion and at the same values previously outlined.

On the second anniversary of the merger, if the stock of the combined company had not traded at $60 for 20 consecutive trading days, the contingency reserve fund would make up the difference between $60 and the current market value of the stock to each Crucible shareholder of record on the merger date.

WHILE THE value of the Whittaker offer to the individual Crucible shareholders can vary according to the Dow Jones Industrial Average, Whittaker's offer on Crucible shares held by Hunt Foods and Industries is stated in more fixed terms.

The offer to Hunt is not made subject to any variation or fluctuations in the Dow Jones Industrial Average. If the merger goes through, Hunt will receive $30.50 in cash and $17 in a 6 per cent convertible subordinated debenture. The debenture is convertible into common stock of Whittaker at $90 a share. The preferred being offered to other Crucible shareholders is convertible into Whittaker common at $100 per share.

In other words, the individual in converting stock secures his Whittaker common share at $100 while Hunt in converting the debentures secures it for $90.

In addition, the proposed interest on the debentures is higher than the interest proposed on the preferred stock to be issued to shareholders other than Hunt.

Lobb added that although it must be assumed that the Whittaker management has contemplated structuring the offer so as to be tax free to shareholders other than Hunt, Crucible's directors will insist that a ruling be obtained from the Internal Revenue Service for the protection of all Crucible stockholders.

Phone Strike Negotiations Being Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Telephone company and union officials have expressed hope they can get wage negotiations going again as a nationwide strike of nearly 200,000 AFL-CIO Communications Workers enters its third day.

"We are ready to meet with them," Ben S. Gilmer, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., said Friday.

"We are hopeful the parties can get back together," said a spokesman for union President Joseph A. Beirne.

Most telephone service was little affected by the first nationwide strike in 21 years.

Picketing in about 40 states was reported generally good-natured and peaceful, but the company reported scattered cable-cutting incidents in Ohio, Indiana, New Jersey and Florida.

"Vandalism of telephone plant (equipment) has not been widespread and where it has occurred repairs have been made promptly," Gilmer said in a statement in New York.

"We know our people are not doing this," Beirne said of the reported sabotage, and added in a message to his union members:

"The union warns that it is not only wrong—but that no such act ever shortened a strike by one minute."

The company said direct-dial phone calls, both local and long distance, were unaffected by the strike and that services requiring an operator were slowed only in a few areas.

"Telephone service remains normal in most of the country and is getting better where it has been affected," Gilmer said.

Refugee Population Grows

The growing world refugee population is a sad commentary on the inability of humanitarianism to keep up with the tremendous technological progress of this age.

Increasing by 4.5 million last year, the total now stands at the 18 million mark.

Both man-made and natural disasters add to the total with the former way out in front.

Most of the new refugees are in Vietnam, Africa and the Middle East, according to a report by the United States Committee for Refugees.

The increasing number of homeless and hungry in the world is especially agonizing to Americans who would like to help Vietnamese refugees and who have tried to help others through the years.

The United States was practically alone in its international aid program. The lack of response from other nations did not stop the American government from allocating huge foreign aid sums.

Last year's reduction in foreign aid spending and additional cuts contemplated this year are not due to an erosion of American concern for the less fortunate, but are an expression of opposition to mismanagement and waste on the part of the U.S. government and recipient governments.

Much of the money just hasn't been getting to those who need it.

The committee's report didn't mention it, but without some effort toward humanitarianism the refugee total would have been much higher.

A portion of the positive effort would include America's acceptance of refugees fleeing Cuba.

Even with a cutback in foreign aid, American support of programs by the United Nations and other international organizations, and individual contributions by U.S. citizens will go toward assisting refugees.

Will other nations do as much?

New Hope For The Elm

All who admire and glory in the beauty of the stately American elm (Ulmus americana) take hope. At long last an antidote may be at hand for the "poison" which has been ravaging our magnificent elms for nearly 40 years.

The elm, which rapidly has been going the way of the chestnut before it, has been almost totally vulnerable to the Dutch elm disease.

Just as the devastating disease was an import from Europe, so is the hoped-for "cure."

Tiny European wasps which have been credited with checking the disease in Europe are being bred in American laboratories by the millions, according to Organic Gardening magazine.

The wasps lay their eggs next to the larvae of the elm-bark beetle which is responsible for spreading the fungus blight. When the wasp larvae hatch, they feed on the beetle larvae and destroy them.

The wasps are being encouraged to take up residence in this country in the hope that they can save the remaining elms from almost certain extinction.

As an ally, they will be welcomed equally by individuals who own elms and communities which have been spending thousands of dollars annually for the removal of infected trees and the chemical spraying of healthy ones.

Others, who fear that the widespread use of pesticides against the elm-bark beetle may have consequences even more undesirable than the loss of the elms, also will welcome the wasps.

Until the Dutch elm disease decimated the trees, the species was one of the best known and widely enjoyed American shade trees. Its gracefully arching and vase-like crown could be seen on college campuses, in town squares and commons, and in parks throughout America.

Now there is hope that the elm again will become a lovely part of countless American panoramas.

In Time Of Need

It is reassuring to learn that the reluctance of people to get "involved" in emergencies is not so widespread as recent incidents across the nation have indicated.

The willingness of Dewey Peters of Beechwood, a city mail carrier, to tackle a blaze at a Woodlawn Ave. home where he had delivered a registered letter Thursday, is among the many acts of assistance and service which occur daily, not all of them so risky, not all of them noted in the newspapers.

But all are discharged obligations of good men and women to help each other in time of need.

timony before a committee but none answers the question why there was no emergency procedure established before the mission began. It obviously was a dangerous mission and should have been treated as such during strategy sessions.

The blunder already has created serious complications and eventually may be more costly to this nation than anyone can foresee at this time.

Blimey!

Good news is out for those folks who wanted to see London Bridge but didn't want to hurt President Johnson's feelings by ignoring his travel ban.

London Bridge is coming to the colonies. The sale has been announced but the identity of the successful American bidder won't be revealed for a few days.

There is a chance the winning bid will send the bridge to a city development project in Arizona.

Should that occur, America one day will have the Queen Mary on one coast, the Queen Elizabeth on the other coast and London Bridge in the middle.

We would be all set if we could get the Eiffel Tower for Florida, the Roman Coliseum for Washington state, a pyramid for New Mexico, a portion of the Swiss Alps for Texas, a Venetian canal and gondola for New Jersey and the Taj Mahal for North Dakota.

That would just about wrap up the squabble over tourists and the balance-of-payments deficit.

Then along came political campaigning, a natural antidote to drug infatuation.

Of course, this means of slowing the use of drugs won't last forever. The campaigns will be over in another few months. However, if the older generation is in tune to the times it will have learned a valuable lesson.

One of the answers to keeping youngsters from turning to drugs is simply involvement.

The popularity of Peace Corps and Vista programs stems from their opportunity for involvement.

If emphasis can be channeled to existing opportunities for commitment and involvement and if new programs can be developed, "alienated" young people will respond.

If as much effort can be directed toward building a bridge of involvement over the generation gap as has been expended in talking about it, we will be a step closer to solving a huge problem confronting our society.

Lesson In Involvement

The 1968 political bag is full of more surprises than Santa Claus' pack—and not all of them have to do with candidates.

Dr. Donald B. Louria, a Cornell University medical professor, says a large number of college students wrapped up in political campaigning are forgetting all about LSD and other drugs.

Dr. Louria attributes the decline in drug popularity to the commitment of young people to a task. By turning to the job at hand — campaigning — the young people have less time to dwell on their disengagement with the world and the generation running it.

Feelings of depression and despair over general conditions along with a natural curiosity led some students down the drug patch. Consequences — some frightening if explored — were ignored.

Everyone wanted to do something about the drug problem but no one knew what to do.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:
It has come to my attention that something should be done about St. Clair Ave.

When driving down this highway, I have found it extremely difficult to distinguish the three different lanes. Other drivers must also find this to be true. Several times it has been impossible for me to pass in the right lane with oncoming traffic because the driver in front takes up the space when necessary.

The remedy for this problem is simply painting the lines on the road again. I realize that in the winter weather it is impossible to keep the roads painted, but in the warmer weather there is absolutely no excuse for this.

May I urge the East Liverpool School Department to please look into this and to please get the dividing lines painted on St. Clair Ave.

Big Labor Problems In '68

WASHINGTON — Nobody calls them eggheads any more. But they're still around. Nobody calls them longhair any more. That would confuse things in this hippyville era.

But the longhairs still are around. They sit in and out of the White House. For they're President Johnson's unhappy warriors. They're the specialists on keeping prices and wages down.

They can't. At least not in 1968, they'll tell you, as they have told the President. There isn't the slightest chance of imposing price and wage controls. To police prices now would require "the creation of a Gestapo" to inspect every supermarket, every copper warehouse, every corner drug store.

And it's just as impossible to keep down wages.

At least 800 labor contracts in major American industries will have expired by the end of this year. Most labor leaders now want anywhere from a 6 to 10 per cent increase. They'll strike to get it.

Everybody has had their eyes on Joe Beirne's Communications Workers of America (original demand: a 10 per cent hike). But Walter Reuther is also ready with a $68.3 million strike fund to back up his 300,000 aerospace (airplanes, helicopters and missiles) workers. Roy Sniell's Machinists are prepared to pull out scores of thousands more if they don't get a union shop in the entire aerospace industry, as well as a substantial wage increase.

ALONG THE LINE are construction unions ready to hit billions of dollars worth of building in and out of the urban centers; electrical workers; men's clothing workers; longshoremen; aluminum workers; the steelworkers; soft coal miners; railroad men; and so on, up to some 4 million unionists. There isn't a major community that won't be affected by these contract negotiations.

And it is not going to try — not in all those specific bargaining conflicts anyway. The President's Council of Economic Advisers, led by "young" Arthur Okun, still believes in wage-price guidelines but isn't conjuring up magic figures like a 3.2 per cent annual productivity increase as the ceiling for wage hikes.

They just aren't saying anything though they believe "we'll inflate the hell out of the country," if the wage increases don't recede from last year's 6 per cent. But they know they can't keep the union leaders from asking for more than 6 per cent — not in aluminum, or steel, or on the waterfront, or in the thousands of smaller shop contracts.

The labor leaders want to catch up with the cost of living, and then top that by a couple of per cents.

There's nothing esoteric about all this. Higher prices put the squeeze on all other problems — the building of schools, the clearing of slums, job training, life and poverty in the central cities, and in the suburbs too.

The best the government can do, say the harassed eggheads, is to argue — with everybody. Call it persuasion, if one wants to be more diplomatic.

Recently in Miami and Chicago the nation's railroad management officials met with the Railroad Trainmen's Charles Luna (a man to watch), George Leighty, chairman of the AFL-CIO Railway Labor Executives' Assn. group, and other on- and off-train labor leaders.

THEY DISCUSSED not only safety, legislative objectives, but "the railroad's competitive position" as well. This means how do they keep costs down, now that a new round of rail labor negotiations is upcoming fast.

Through all the political ruminations, the public forgets the great railroad crisis. But Secretary of Transportation Alan Boyd and the White House do not. So Boyd was there with sermons and some personal prayers.

With no hope of corking 1968, the President has activated his Cabinet Committee on Price Stability. The other day he appointed Willard (Fritz) Mueller, as the committee's Executive Director. He's from the Federal Trade Commission's economic research division.

Made up of the Secretaries of Labor, Commerce, and the Treasury, the Director of the Budget, and key agency heads, the committee is meeting on a regular basis, coordinated by Mr. Okun. It will study and it will publish in depth.

But it will also call in representatives of business, labor and the public "to enlist cooperation towards responsible wage and price behavior."

It will not "become involved in specific current wage and price matters."

Soon this committee will begin a series of conferences with labor and business leaders, and "with representatives of particular industries or particular segments of labor." In an attempt to "reach some consensus on appropriate general standards to guide private price and wage decisions."

But for 1968, it's too late. The year's motif will be pay now, argue later.

Odd Facts

It's the female mosquito who does all the feasting on our human skins. The male mosquito is a strict vegetarian, and his mouth is so constructed that he could not bite even if he tried.

The longest straight length of railroad track in the world is the one extending over the Nullarbor Plain, in southern and western Australia — 328 miles straight-of-way.

Intoxicating drinks, made from honey, barley and grapes, were known at least 1,000 years B.C.

DAVID LAWRENCE

'Deadly Force'

Do policemen have to wait until a rioter with a gun pulls the trigger and then try to shoot at him and the other gunmen?

Must an arsonist with a fire bomb in his hand be allowed to throw it before the officers of the law can make an effort to use force?

These questions have been given nationwide attention as a result of a statement by Richard J. Daley, mayor of Chicago, who said in a press conference that he had issued orders to his police to "shoot to kill" arsonists during a riot.

But it is evident that many of those who have commented on Mayor Daley's statement do not understand law enforcement. The best explanation has come from Orlando W. Wilson, former police superintendent in Chicago, who retired last year and now lives in California. He said:

"THE ACTION proposed is within the framework of Illinois law and certainly the law in no state authorizes killing in lieu of arrest. The objective of the police must be to arrest, and I am sure the mayor had this in mind.

"The use of deadly force is authorized by law in the event an arrest is resisted or the arrestee undertakes to avoid arrest by flight. I think this is where the difficulty lies. Maybe the mayor's statement to the press did not come out quite that way."

Mayors of many cities have spoken in support of the action of the head of Chicago's city government. But other mayors seem to think that Mayor Daley's intent is to use force on everybody engaged in a riot.

Certainly there is no justification for indiscriminate shooting into a mob or crowd just to disperse it. When a criminal act has been initiated, however, and the offender ignores a policeman's order to halt or resist arrest, use of maximum force has long been sanctioned.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, speaking to the American Society of Newspaper Editors here Wednesday, declared that a blanket order to shoot rioters could lead to a "very dangerous escalation" of violence in American cities. He added:

"I do not believe that the use of deadly force by law-enforcement officers is permissible except in self-defense or when it is necessary to protect the lives of others."

Mayor Daley has since explained that his order to the police to use "deadly force" was directed against arsonists and those who were refusing to obey the police. He declared:

"Certainly an officer should do everything in his power to make an arrest — to prevent a crime — by utilizing minimum force necessary. But I cannot believe that any citizen would hold that policemen should permit an arsonist to carry out his dangerous, murderous mission when minimum force necessary cannot prevent or deter him. There are few crimes that hold the potential of loss of life, or threat to the entire community as does arson."

Jerome P. Cavanaugh, mayor of Detroit, where 43 persons were killed in several days of rioting last year, said that policemen should use "what force is necessary — hopefully, minimum force — to apprehend that person." He obviously had in mind individuals engaged in arson or attempting to resist arrest. He continued:

"People caught in the act of arson are felons and are apprehended (in Detroit) pursuant to the law. But to make a blanket statement that you are going to fire into crowds of looters or crowds of arsonists, is a very difficult and impossible thing to say or to do, and I don't intend to say it or do it."

THE SUBJECT is one that should be clarified, primarily because in many recent riots where the police have acted with restraint, word quickly has spread that there was no obstacle to looting and even to arson, as the police would not interfere.

In the Washington riots, it has not been determined whether, when the police acted with a certain "restraint," this was misinterpreted by some persons as a license to set fire to buildings and to loot stores.

If the impression becomes nationwide that the police are going to wait until looters or arsonists commit criminal acts, rather than trying to prevent these by making arrests, America may expect a larger amount of violence than has already occurred.

If, on the other hand, it is made clear that "deadly force" will be used when potential arsonists and looters actually defy the police, order may be restored more quickly and serious damage prevented both to lives and property.

Refugee Population Grows

The growing world refugee population is a sad commentary on the inability of humanitarianism to keep up with the tremendous technological progress of this age.

Increasing by 4.5 million last year, the total now stands at the 16 million mark.

Both man-made and natural disasters add to the total with the former way out in front.

Most of the new refugees are in Vietnam, Africa and the Middle East, according to a report by the United States Committee for Refugees.

The increasing number of homeless and hungry in the world is especially agonizing to Americans who would like to help Vietnamese refugees and who have tried to help others through the years.

The United States was practically alone in its international aid program. The lack of response from other nations did not stop the American government from allocating huge foreign aid sums.

Last year's reduction in foreign aid spending and additional cuts contemplated this year are not due to an erosion of American concern for the less fortunate, but are an expression of opposition to mismanagement and waste on the part of the U.S. government and recipient governments.

Much of the money just hasn't been getting to those who need it.

The committee's report didn't mention it, but without some effort toward humanitarianism the refugee total would have been much higher.

A portion of the positive effort would include America's acceptance of refugees fleeing Cuba.

Even with a cutback in foreign aid, American support of programs by the United Nations and other international organizations, and individual contributions by U.S. citizens will go toward assisting refugees.

Will other nations do as much?

New Hope For The Elm

All who admire and glory in the beauty of the stately American elm (Ulmus Americana) take hope. At long last an antidote may be at hand for the "poison" which has been ravaging our magnificent elms for nearly 40 years.

The elm, which rapidly has been going the way of the chestnut before it, has been almost totally vulnerable to the Dutch elm disease.

Just as the devastating disease was an import from Europe, so is the hoped for "cure."

Tiny European wasps which have been credited with checking the disease in Europe are being bred in American laboratories by the millions, according to Organic Gardening magazine.

The wasps lay their eggs next to the larvae of the elm-bark beetle which is responsible for spreading the fungus blight. When the wasp larvae hatch, they feed on the beetle larvae and destroy them.

The wasps are being encouraged to take up residence in this country in the hope that they can save the remaining elms from almost certain extinction.

As an ally, they will be welcomed equally by individuals who own elms and communities which have been spending thousands of dollars annually for the removal of infected trees and the chemical spraying of healthy ones.

Others, who fear that the widespread use of pesticides against the elm-bark beetle may have consequences even more undesirable than the loss of the elms, also will welcome the wasps.

Until the Dutch elm disease decimated the trees, the species was one of the best known and widely enjoyed American shade trees. Its gracefully arching and vase-like crown could be seen on college campuses, in town squares and commons, and in parks throughout America.

Now there is hope that the elm again will become a lovely part of countless American panoramas.

In Time Of Need

It is reassuring to learn that the reluctance of people to get "involved" in emergencies is not so widespread as recent incidents across the nation have indicated.

The willingness of Dewey Peters of Beechwood, a city mail carrier, to tackle a blaze at a Woodlawn Ave. home where he had delivered a registered letter Thursday, is among the many acts of assistance and service which occur daily, not all of them so risky, not all of them noted in the newspapers.

But all are discharged obligations of good men and women to help each other in time of need.

Secrets Seized With Pueblo

The Senate Armed Services Committee has released information confirming the seizure of secret equipment and important documents by North Koreans when they grabbed the USS Pueblo Jan. 21.

Previously, U. S. sources reported the crew had started to destroy equipment and documents but said it was not sure the job had been completed.

Release of messages from the Pueblo by the Senate committee proves the job was not complete.

This one of the messages from Lloyd M. Bucher, commander of the spy ship, to higher military authorities: "Have been directed to come to all stop. Being boarded at this time. Destruction incomplete. Several publications will be compromised."

Only military authorities have enough knowledge of the intelligence ship's equipment to know exactly what the loss means to the United States. The average American has no idea.

However, the average American does know to what extent the prestige of the United States has been damaged by the seizure of the ship and its crew.

Two other messages sent by the Pueblo can be clearly understood. They are: "How about some help? These guys mean business" and "Request help. SOS."

Military officials have a fistful of excuses why help wasn't dispatched to the ship. They cite weather factors, danger to the Pueblo from American air action, the fact U. S. planes would have been outnumbered by North Korean aircraft and the limited response time allotted by Cmdr. Bucher's late call for help.

All the excuses may sound reasonable in testimony before a committee but none answers the question why there was no emergency procedure established before the mission began.

It obviously was a dangerous mission and should have been treated as such during strategy sessions.

The blunder already has created serious complications and eventually may be more costly to this nation than anyone can foresee at this time.

Blimey!

Good news is out for those folks who wanted to see London Bridge but didn't want to hurt President Johnson's feelings by ignoring his travel ban.

London Bridge is coming to the colonies.

The sale has been announced but the identity of the successful American bidder won't be revealed for a few days.

There is a chance the winning bid will send the bridge to a city development project in Arizona.

Should that occur, America one day will have the Queen Mary on one coast, the Queen Elizabeth on the other coast and London Bridge in the middle.

We would be all set if we could get the Eiffel Tower for Florida, the Roman Coliseum for Washington state, a pyramid for New Mexico, a portion of the Swiss Alps for Texas, a Venetian canal and gondola for New Jersey and the Taj Mahal for North Dakota.

That would just about wrap up the squabble over tourists and the balance-of-payments deficit.

Lesson In Involvement

The 1968 political bag is full of more surprises than Santa Claus' pack—and not all of them have to do with candidates.

Dr. Donald B. Louria, a Cornell University medical professor, says a large number of college students wrapped up in political campaigning are forgetting all about LSD and other drugs.

Dr. Louria attributes the decline in drug popularity to the commitment of young people to a task. By turning to the job at hand — campaigning — the young people have less time to dwell abstractly on their disenchantment with the world and the generation running it.

Feelings of depression and despair over general conditions along with a natural curiosity led some students down the drug patch. Consequences — some frightening if explored — were ignored.

Everyone wanted to do something about the drug problem but no one knew what to do.

Then along came political campaigning, a natural antidote to drug infatuation.

Of course, this means of slowing the use of drugs won't last forever. The campaigns will be over in another few months. However, if the older generation is in tune to the times it will have learned a valuable lesson.

One of the answers to keeping youngsters from turning to drugs is simply involvement.

The popularity of Peace Corps and Vista programs stems from their opportunity for involvement.

If emphasis can be channeled to existing opportunities for commitment and involvement and if new programs can be developed, "alienated" young people will respond.

If as much effort can be directed toward building a bridge of involvement over the generation gap as has been expended in talking about it, we will be a step closer to solving a huge problem confronting our society.

Mrs. Dorcas Raber was named president of the Mothers Club of Harding Chapter, Order of DeMolay, during the meeting Thursday night at the Masonic Temple.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Louise Fitzgerald, vice president; Mrs. Jackie Casto, secretary; and Mrs. Genevieve Hoffman, treasurer.

Installation will be May 2. Mrs. Raber appointed Mrs. Irene Griffith, chaplain, and Mrs. Nellie Birch, installing officer.

Business was conducted by Mrs. Connie Brokaw, president. Mrs. Mary Hicks gave the ways and means report.

Mrs. Griffith read an article, "Criticism, How To Accept, Understand And Use It," by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale. She led the group in repeating "The Mother's Creed."

The club will meet May 16 to serve refreshments for the Harding Chapter.

Mrs. Ellen Dupont was guest speaker during the meeting of the WSCS of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church Wednesday night in the social rooms.

Introduced by Mrs. Paul Jones, she discussed psychiatry. She is an administrator of a mental institution at New Castle.

Mrs. Jennie White conducted devotions.

Mrs. George Welker read an article, "Missionaries in Africa," from "The Methodist Woman."

It was announced cleaning cloths are needed for the Copeland Home at Sebring.

Refreshments were served 19 by Miss Madge Porter, Mrs. Ralph Badgley and Mrs. Jones. The buffet table was centered with a bouquet of spring flowers flanked by yellow tapers.

Mrs. Phillip Carl sang the Wesleyan Grace.

Mrs. Anita McGraw was a guest.

The next session will be May 15 at the church.

Tentative plans for the annual dinner party were discussed during the meeting of the Auxiliary of the Knights of Columbus Thursday night at the K. of C. hall.

Mrs. James McGowan, president, will make arrangements for the June event.

Refreshments were served by Miss Helen Auld and Miss Lena Palmisano.

Local Girl, Freedom Man Wed In Church Ceremony

The traditions were observed when Miss Marilyn Boley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Boley of 230 Moore St., became the bride of Alex M. Kouvoles Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex M. Kouvoles of Freedom, April 7 at 8:30 p.m. in the Anderson Methodist Church.

The Rev. Carl Murray officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with white mums, palms, ferns and candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Mrs. Eileen Brown sang "Through the Years," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." Ronald J. Brookes, brother-in-law of the bride, was organist.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a full-length gown of peau de soie and Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice, accented with pearl trim, was designed with a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long, pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt featured a front panel of lace and wide lace border and the chapel train was highlighted with a bustle effect.

Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was held in place by a double crown of lace petals adorned with sequins and seed pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and yellow roses centered with a white orchid and tied with satin streamers.

Mrs. Carol Liebschner, matron of honor, wore a full-length gown of pastel green brocade silk with short jacket of sateau and a matching headpiece. She carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow carnations and white daisies tied with yellow streamers.

Miss Judith Althar, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a costume identical to that of the matron of honor, but in pastel yellow, and carried a Colonial bouquet of white carnations and yellow daisies tied with green streamers. Both attendants wore heart-shaped pendant necklaces and white gloves, gifts of the bride.

William Kouvoles served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Carl Schneider and Robert Kouvoles, another brother.

The mother of the bride chose a royal blue knit suit with white accessories and carnation corsage.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a brown knit dress and jacket ensemble with beige accessories and yellow carnation corsage. Mrs. Mike Filip, grandmother of the bridegroom, wore a turquoise dress and pink carnation corsage.

A RECEPTION for 110 followed in the social rooms under the supervision of the Women's Society of Christian Service. The buffet table was draped with yellow and green maline and accented with white wedding bells. The centerpiece was a three-tier cake, topped with a miniature bride couple. The bride's table was highlighted with white tapers in crystal candelabra.

Aides were Mrs. Elsie Justice, Mrs. Florence Geisz and Mrs. Virginia Gallagher.

For her honeymoon tour of the New England States, the bride wore a yellow knit dress and coat ensemble with brown accessories and her bridal orchid.

The bride is a graduate of the City Hospital School of Nurses Training and was formerly a member of the pediatric staff. Her husband is employed in the engineering department of the Bethlehem Steel Co. at Leechdale, Pa.

The rehearsal dinner party was held at the Glenmoor service center of the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

The bride was feted with three pre-nuptial showers.

The traditions were observed when Miss Marilyn Boley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Boley of 238 Moore St., became the bride of Alex M. Kouvolo Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex M. Kouvolo of Freedom, April 7 at 6:30 p. m. in the Anderson Methodist Church.

The Rev. Carl Murray officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with white mums, palms, ferns and candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Mrs. Eileen Brown sang "Through the Years," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." Ronald J. Brookes, brother-in-law of the bride, was organist.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a full-length gown of peau de soie and Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice, accented with pearl trim, was designed with a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long, pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt featured a front panel of lace and wide lace border and the chapel train was highlighted with a bustle effect.

Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was held in place by a double crown of lace petals adorned with sequins and seed pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and yellow roses centered with a white orchid and tied with satin streamers.

Mrs. Carol Liebschner, matron of honor, wore a full-length gown of pastel green brocade silk with short jacket of sata peau and a matching headpiece. She carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow carnations and white daisies tied with yellow streamers.

Miss Judith Althar, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a costume identical to that of the matron of honor, but in pastel yellow, and carried a Colonial bouquet of white carnations and yellow daisies tied with green streamers. Both attendants wore heart-shaped pendant necklaces and white gloves, gifts of the bride.

William Kouvolo served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Carl Schneider and Robert Kouvolo, another brother.

The mother of the bride chose a royal blue knit suit with white accessories and carnation corsages.

Its size, strength, keenness of vision and powers of flight make the eagle appropriate as the U.S. national emblem.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION

THE WILL OF GOD

In the 10th chapter of the book of Romans we read these words: "Brethren, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved. For I bear them record that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge. For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God."

In these verses Paul points out a truth that is very needful for this present day. Even though the people that Paul spoke about were very zealous toward God, they were not saved. In our present day we have seemed to think that just because a man is zealous toward God, this makes him acceptable unto God. Many have tried to justify practices of theirs by saying that they are honestly doing these things toward God, this makes him acceptable unto God. Many have tried to justify practices of theirs by saying that they are honestly doing these things toward God. Paul pointed out the fact that the people of his day were ignorant of the will of God and so they just went about doing the things that they wanted to do. It is time that we learn that God does not leave us alone to just do anything that we want to do, but he has given His will to us in the Bible. If we just study the Bible we can know what God wants us to do. Then we can be zealous in doing God's will.

Matthew 7:21-23 give us a picture of the judgment. In this we can see some who came before the Lord thinking that the fact that they were zealous would mean that God would accept them. This however, was not the case. The Lord pointed out the fact that they were not doing the will of the Father in Heaven. This brings us to this point. Are we doing the will of the Father? If we are just zealous in doing our "own righteousness" this will not justify us in the sight of God.

We must be sure that what we practice in religion is according to God's will. Read your Bible carefully. Do you read in the Bible of people sprinkling water on another's head and calling this baptism? Do you read of joining the church of your choice? Where do you read of infant membership?

Does the Bible give the name of the church that you are a member of? Remember that just being zealous toward God is not enough. We must be doing the will of the Father.

Let me suggest to you that God wants all men to be saved. 1 Tim. 2:4. "Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth." We can be saved when we learn and obey the truth. Study your Bible daily. Examine the things that you practice and be sure that they are taught in God's Word.

You are cordially invited to attend the services of the Church of Christ. Bring your Bible and together we can study God's Word.

Donnell Speaks During Meeting Of Church Group

NEW CUMBERLAND — Donald Donnell, assistant prosecuting attorney for Hancock County, discussed "The Lay Congress" when the Altar and Rosary Society of the Immaculate Conception parish met Thursday in the church social room.

Mrs. Mike Macek, vice president, presided. A Scripture reading was presented by Mrs. Fred Santimario, chairman of the church communities commission.

Mrs. Vito Riggi, chairman of the Community Affairs Commission, reported that the Easter egg hunt at the Hancock County Children's Home "was a success."

Miss Helen Bowen and Mrs. Robert Swearingen, co-chairmen of the organization services commission, will be hostesses at the interfaith dialogue to be held at Madonna High School Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. It is being sponsored by the church communities commission of the Weirton deanery of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women.

Fr. Innocent Koncinski asked for volunteers to recruit members for the society for the propagation of the faith.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Macek and Mrs. John Casagrande.

The next meeting will be May 21, with Mrs. Ralph Cain and Mrs. John Janura hostesses.

"Singspiration" To Be Conducted

A "Singspiration" will be featured Sunday at 7 p. m. at the Second Baptist Church, marking the second in a series of programs sponsored by the Transportation Committee.

Singing groups from the tri-state area in addition to the host church will participate. They include "The Bells" from the Calcutta United Presbyterian Church, the Leonard Sisters from the Grace United Presbyterian and an ensemble from the Second Church of Christ.

The First Nazarene, Emmanuel Presbyterian, Glenmoor United Presbyterian and the New Hope Churches also will take part.

James Martin is in charge, assisted by Dan Henderson, a deacon, and Arthur Roberts.

Joint Service Set At Shippingport

A joint service of the Georgetown area Methodist churches and the Evangelical United Brethren Church of Industry will be held Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the Green Valley Methodist Church in Shippingport.

The service will signify the merger of the Methodist and EUB churches.

The Rev. Alexander Haines is pastor of the host church. Ministers of the visiting churches will take part. A social hour will follow the service.

Musical Selections Set At Two Services

Mrs. Violet Farnsworth will sing at 10:45 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday at the Wellsville First Church of the Nazarene.

Mrs. Geneva Parsons, Sunday School Superintendent, will conduct the program at 9:45 a. m.

Miss Terri Russell will be in charge of the Young People's Group at 6:10 p. m. Mrs. Betty Moore is president.

The Rev. Clark Allison is pastor.

Its size, strength, keenness of vision and powers of flight make the eagle appropriate as the U.S. national emblem.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION

THE WILL OF GOD

In the 10th chapter of the book of Romans we read these words: "Brethren, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved. For I bear them record that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge. For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God."

In these verses Paul points out a truth that is very needful for this present day. Even though the people that Paul spoke about were very zealous toward God, they were not saved. In our present day we have seemed to think that just because a man is zealous toward God, this makes him acceptable unto God. Many have tried to justify practices of theirs by saying that they are honestly doing these things toward God, this makes him acceptable unto God. Many have tried to justify practices of theirs by saying that they are honestly doing these things toward God.

Paul pointed out the fact that the people of his day were ignorant of the will of God and so they just went about doing the things that they wanted to do. It is time that we learn that God does not leave us alone to just do anything that we want to do, but he has given His will to us in the Bible. If we just study the Bible we can know what God wants us to do. Then we can be zealous in doing God's will.

Matthew 7:21-23 give us a picture of the judgment. In this we can see some who came before the Lord thinking that the fact that they were zealous would mean that God would accept them. This however, was not the case. The Lord pointed out the fact that they were not doing the will of the Father in Heaven.

This brings us to this point. Are we doing the will of the Father? If we are just zealous in doing our "own righteousness" this will not justify us in the sight of God.

Let me suggest to you that God wants all men to be saved. 1 Tim. 2:4. "Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth." We can be saved when we learn and obey the truth. Study your Bible daily. Examine the things that you practice and be sure that they are taught in God's Word.

You are cordially invited to attend the services of the Church of Christ. Bring your Bible and together we can study God's Word.

Talk Set Here Tuesday By Woman Missionary

Mrs. Jeanette Jimenez, a newly approved Assemblies of God missionary to Haiti, will be guest speaker Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the First Assembly of God Church at 926 W. 8th St.

The public is invited to the services.

Mrs. Jimenez received her B.A. in religious education from Central Bible College at Springfield, Mo., in January and her husband, Ralph, will receive his B.A. in Bible from the same college in May.

Haitian music, costumes, slides and curios will be featured during the special mission rally.

Although this will be their first term as Assemblies of God missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. Jimenez previously spent four years in Haiti, where they established churches in northern Haiti and trained national workers. Mrs. Jimenez produced five weekly radio broadcasts for that area of the country.

During their first term as appointed missionaries, the couple will carry the responsibility of establishing new churches and an evening Bible school, promoting Sunday school work, producing Spanish radio programs for countries in the Caribbean and ministering to college and university students.

The Rev. James Miller is host pastor.

19 Treated At City Hospital Following District Mishaps

Two area residents injured early today were treated at City Hospital, where 17 others were treated Friday.

Boy Scout Area News

Webelos' mothers won a nail-driving contest during a meeting of Cub Pack 43 sponsored by the Pleasant Heights Parent-Teacher Association.

A pinewood derby will be held April 27 in the school. On May 18, a family outing will be held at the YMCA camp, beginning at 3 p.m.

A paper drive is being held by the group. Den 4 received an attendance award.

Badges and pins were received by Tim Arnold, bobcat; Richard Osborn, bear and denner stripe; Wayne Saling, bear and golden arrow point; Bobby Cain, wolf and gold arrow point; Jeffrey Gibbs, wolf; Jeffrey Bigelow, one-year pin and silver arrow point; Michael Frontz, gold and silver arrow points; and Tom Lynch, one-year pin, silver arrow point and bear.

Webelos honored were Robert Kitteridge, sportsman; James Meade, geologist; Michael Wolfe, engineer; John Hopper, assistant denner stripe, traveler and sportsman; Phil Watson, athlete and outdoorsman, and Steve Lewis, athlete.

Den 3 led the closing ceremony.

Helping Hands Given By Fire Department

City firemen were called to assist residents twice this morning, first to Grant St. and the second time to a Bradshaw Ave. firm.

Firemen were called about 8:17 to 327 Grant St. when the family of Patricia Stewart was unable to awaken the young girl.

Firemen succeeded in partially awakening her, then phoned for an ambulance to take her to City Hospital. Two men with the squad truck responded. Hospital officials said the girl is in "fair" condition.

The department was called to Loblaw's Market on Bradshaw Ave. about 9:46 when a tank of freon gas upset. Two men with a squad truck carried the tank outside the building. Ten minutes were required to complete the detail.

Mayor Ties A 'Knot' After Word Groping

LISBON — A marriage ceremony at 11:15 a. m. Friday in Village Hall was the first for Patricia Ann Call, 18, and Robert E. Taylor, 23, both of East Liverpool, and for Mayor Clyde B. Pike.

He spent 30 minutes trying to find what words to use. Finally, he asked, "Do you?" and "Do you?" and "Does anyone have any reason why not?"

The responses were proper and he pronounced the couple man and wife.

Grange Minstrel At Highlandtown Attended By 150

HIGHLANDTOWN — Approximately 150 attended the Highlandtown Grange annual minstrel show Friday night at the grange hall.

Participating in the program were Dale Rose, interlocutor; Ray Leatherberry, Bob Hays, Bob Mills and Carl Leatherberry, end men and soloists; Walter Boyd and Bob McPherson, end men and Jim Kessel, soloist.

Other performers were Bruce Thorne, playing the bones; Kenny Nichols, trumpet; Walter and Kim Boyd, guitar duet, and a boys' chorus and a men's quintet.

Accompaniment was provided by Nancy Clark, piano, and Kenny Nichols, trumpet. Decorations for the "Heart and Flowers" theme were two five-foot figures of men holding a scroll of music covered with hearts and flowers.

The minstrel was directed by Mrs. Kathryn Leatherberry and Mrs. Janet Taggart.

Moss Gets Ohio Jaycee Position

Frank Moss, East Liverpool Jaycee president, was named a state Jaycee vice president Friday night at a District 20 caucus during a Region 8 meeting at Alliance.

Moss and three others represented the East Liverpool chapter, — all won awards.

Dave Darkow was a "Spoke" award winner, given a Jaycee for his first year participation; Charles Lang won a "Spark Plug" award, given a Jaycee who has been a member longer than one year, but who is not a local president or state officer, and Dick Darrah won the "Speakup" contest. The award is presented to the best speaker who chooses as his topic one line of the Jaycee creed.

Twelve represented the Wellsville chapter, eight from Lisbon and four from Columbiana.

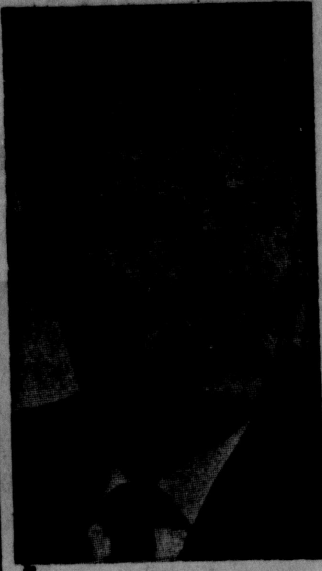

Street To Be Closed During Bridge Work

LISBON — Southern Ave. in Columbiana will be closed one week beginning Monday for replacement of a bridge.

John Ursu, Columbiana County engineer, said the existing steel beam bridge on the town's southern boundary will be replaced with twin culverts.

The metal pipes will be 9 feet 4 inches wide and 6-3 high. Ursu said the project will cost about $5,000, with a county crew doing the work. The road surface over the pipes will be dirt, the same as the rest of the street.

The state of Texas is larger than England, France and West Germany combined — but still it would fit into the state of Alaska twice, with more than 150,000 square miles left over.

Revival Services Held Nightly At Glendale Church

The Rev. James S. Fitch, an elder in the Church of the Nazarene, with international headquarters at Kansas City, Mo., is evangelist for revival services being held nightly at 7:30 at the Glendale Church of the Nazarene in Newell. The services will end April 28.

He began his ministry in 1941 after attending Olivet Nazarene Church at Kankakee, Ill., and has remained an evangelist throughout his ministry. He has been influential in organizing three new churches.

Special music is featured nightly.

The Rev. G. A. Hazlett, pastor, said the public is invited.

Offers Pour In For King's 'Poor' Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organizers of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s Poor People's Campaign in Washington say they've been flooded by offers of support since the April 4 assassination of King.

"It brought an increase in the number of volunteers, particularly from the black community. Fifty per cent, I'd say," reported Anthony Henry, chief Washington organizer.

"Also a larger number of organizations are willing to release staff people full time to work with us."

Henry's storefront office, in the middle of an area that saw heavy destruction during rioting in Washington that followed the assassination, was much busier and more crowded than it had been a month ago.

Committee chairmen who four weeks ago were in desperate need of volunteers were loaning people to other committees.

"I have a volunteer who's on strike at the telephone company," one young man announced. "Can anybody use him?" He was sent immediately to deliver literature.

There is only one week left before the campaign is to begin its scheduled starting date of April 29 set back only one week from Dr. King's April 22 timetable.

Poor people are not scheduled to begin marching to the capital in large numbers until May 2, when a symbolic group will leave from Memphis, Tenn., where King was slain.

Retaining Wall Will Be Erected

LISBON — The Bricker Construction Co. of Salem has been hired for emergency work at Salineville in front of Hazlett's Market at the junction of Routes 39 (E. Main St.) and Route 164.

Mrs. George Hazlett asked the county commissioners for assistance after the front basement wall caved in about three weeks ago. The Route 39 right-of-way runs right up to the store front.

The county filled dirt in front of the store several years ago and built a sidewalk on the dirt as an approach to the "high bridge" immediately west of the market. The fill settled, the sidewalk above it broke and dropped and the store wall caved in.

County Engineer John Ursu said Bricker will build a heavy concrete retaining wall 23 feet long across the front of the store. The wall also will serve as the basement wall of the market. Commissioners adopted a resolution Thursday authorizing Ursu to have the work done. The cost will be approximately $3,000, he said.

County Legion Nominates 10 For Office In May 10 Voting

The Columbiana County American Legion Council nominated John Long of East Liverpool for commander at a meeting Friday night at Glenmoor Post 736. Long is a member of East Liverpool Post 374 and is first vice commander of the Council.

Nine others were nominated for five offices. Nominations will remain open until the election May 10 at Wellsville. Nominees are:

First vice commander — Ray Cunningham, East Liverpool, Roland Webber, Glenmoor.

Second vice commander — John Zundel, East Palestine, Denzel McKinney, East Liverpool, and Sam Maylene, Wellsville.

Finance officer — Walter L. McCoy, Columbiana.

Chaplain — McKinney and Bernard D. Wright, Salineville.

Sergeant-at-arms — Leroy Patterson, East Liverpool.

William Grate, county commander, presided. Thirty-five attended, representing nine posts. Long reported there are 2,613 members in county posts. Maylene, Third Division commander, reported division membership is higher than this date last year.

Mei Lockhart of Post 736, Council bowling chairman, announced the Legion traveling league will bowl at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at Parkway Lanes in Alliance.

The Ohio State Patrol Auxiliary will have its annual convention April 27-28 at Columbus, Cunningham announced.

James Cregar of Post 374, 10th district commander, will preside at the district's spring conference April 28 at Doylestown. Chester Stellar of Creston, past Ohio commander, will speak.

County Legionnaires will visit veterans in Massillon State Hospital May 8. A caravan will leave Lisbon Post 275 at 5:30, and the tour will begin from the hospital administration building at 7:15. Council will provide lunch and game prizes for the patients.

Stanton High Honors 20 In Ceremonies

Twenty students were recognized for scholastic achievement during a National Honor Society candlelight ceremony at Stanton High School.

Elected to active membership during the annual initiation assembly in the school auditorium were Sara Householder, a senior, and Diane Haight, Linda Roberts, Debbie Stephens, Karen Ward and Sherry Williams, juniors.

Sophomores nominated for provisional membership included Jerry Cross, Marion Donohue, Sherry Fichtner, Deborah Hoobler, Linda Lamp, Shirley Metz, Dave Norris, Pat Pysniak, Donna Racz, Cindy Reese, Tim Rini, Ed Sheets, Marsha Spouse and Vivian Ward.

Guest speaker at the assembly was Frank Maus, director of management, development and training at the Weirton Steel Co. Maus discussed the importance of education "to meet the changes taking place in our society."

Introducing remarks were given by Harry Swartzlander, principal. Joseph Plesich, NHS advisor and guidance counselor, gave the NHS pledge.

Barnard Set For Another Transplant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Christian Barnard says he plans another heart transplant attempt in about six weeks, this one using permanently implanted silver studs as physiological signposts.

Barnard, leader of a South African team that performed the operation on the world's only living heart transplant patient — Dr. Philip Blalberg — revealed plans for his third heart transplant operation at a Friday news conference in Washington.

He said surgeons will sew several silver clips around the edges of the heart after taking it from a newly dead person and implanting it in the chest of a gravely ill patient yet to be selected.

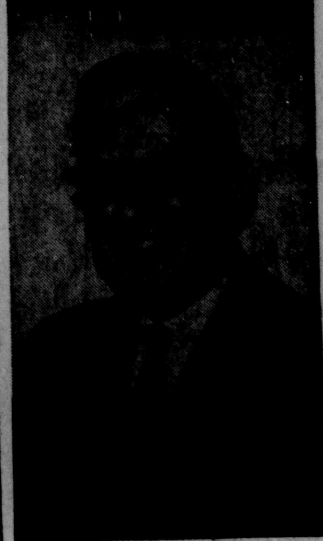

The idea will be to have the small silver clips serve as signposts to allow Barnard and his colleagues to quickly spot by X-ray any enlargement of the heart, however slight, following the transplant surgery.

At the same time Barnard reported that Blalberg, who has now gone 100 days since his surgery, "is improving every day." "We doctors feel very happy about him," Barnard said. "He has improved beyond our expectations."

South Side Play Nets $170 For Junior Class

About $170 was obtained for the benefit of the South Side High School junior class at the annual junior play Friday night at the high school.

Some 300 attended. A gift was presented to Roger Colling, director. The cast held a winner roast afterward at the Georgetown baseball field.

HARRY L. GIRTS
Will Be Evangelist.

Free Methodist Church To Open Revival Services

Revival services will be held at the Wellsville Free Methodist Church beginning Monday night at 7 and continuing nightly through April 28.

Evangelist Harry L. Girts of Newark, N. Y., will be in charge and Ted Cunningham will be song evangelist. The public is invited.

Evangelist Girts has been a pastor for 28 years. He has served as a youth evangelist, song evangelist, campmeeting speaker and for one year promoted evangelism at the Genesee Conference.

The Rev. D. C. Logston is host pastor.

Malone Selected For Boys State

SALINEVILLE — Ronald Ray Malone, 17, a junior at Southern Local High School, has been selected to attend Boys State.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Malone of RD 1.

The selection was based on a vote by the high school faculty.

Malone will be sponsored jointly by American Legion Post 442 of Salineville and the former Salineville Ruritan Club.

CTA Plans Event As Fund Project

The Citizens for Total Action will sponsor a smorgasbord at the East End Masonic Hall April 30 from 5 to 8 p. m. as the first fund raising project of the newly organized group.

The Youth Auxiliary, headed by Larry Fitch, plans a May dance to raise funds.

A news bulletin is now being published by the CTA with Alice L. Brooks as publicity chairman.

Play Presented During Meeting Of Local Lions

A one-act play, "What's Wrong with the Girls?" was presented by the East Liverpool High School Thespians Club during the Lions luncheon Friday at the Travelers Hotel.

The cast included Mac Ogilvie, Becky Daley, Dick Donahue and Janet Makarich.

Introductions and set changes were handled by Ari Green. Keith Langdon, Thespians adviser, said the performance was the last of eight to be presented outside the school this year.

During the business session, Charles Haugh, president, reported five members attended the zone meeting at New Waterford.

The broom sale will be held April 29, 30 and May 1, he reminded members.

Roy Haught of Chester RD 1, an employee of the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., a laceration of the right hand on a broken cup handle at work; Christopher Dietz, son of Robert Dietz of 205 California Ave., a contusion of the left foot while playing.

Scott Pichey, son of Cornelius Pichey of 1638 Alpha St., a laceration of the forehead on a hose nozzle.

Boy Scout Area News

Webelos' mothers won a nail-driving contest during a meeting of Cub Pack 43 sponsored by the Pleasant Heights Parent-Teacher Association.

A pinewood derby will be held April 27 in the school. On May 18, a family outing will be held at the YMCA camp, beginning at 2 p.m.

A paper drive is being held by the group. Den 4 received an attendance award.

Badges and pins were received by Tim Arnold, bobcat; Richard Osborn, bear and denner stripe; Wayne Saling, bear and golden arrow point; Bobby Cain, wolf and gold arrow point; Jeffrey Gibbs, wolf; Jeffrey Bigelow, one-year pin and silver arrow point; Michael Frontz, gold and silver arrow points, and Tom Lynch, one-year pin, silver arrow point and bear.

Webelos honored were Robert Kitteridge, sportsman; James Meade, geologist; Michael Wolfe, engineer; John Hopper, assistant denner stripe, traveler and sportsman; Phil Watson, athlete and outdoorsman, and Steve Lewis, athlete.

Den 3 led the closing ceremony.

Helping Hands Given By Fire Department

City firemen were called to assist residents twice this morning, first to Grant St. and the second time to a Bradshaw Ave. fire.

Firemen were called about 8:17 to 327 Grant St. when the family of Patricia Stewart was unable to awaken the young girl.

Firemen succeeded in partially awakening her, then phoned for an ambulance to take her to City Hospital. Two men with the squad truck responded. Hospital officials said the girl is in "fair" condition.

The department was called to Loblaws Market on Bradshaw Ave. about 9:46 when a tank of freon gas upset. Two men with a squad truck carried the tank outside the building. Ten minutes were required to complete the detail.

Mayor Ties A 'Knot' After Word Groping

LISBON — A marriage ceremony at 11:15 a.m. Friday in Village Hall was the first for Patricia Ann Call, 18, and Robert E. Taylor, 23, both of East Liverpool, and for Mayor Clyde B. Pike.

He spent 90 minutes trying to find what words to use. Finally, he asked, "Do you?" and "Do you?" and "Does anyone have any reason why not?"

The responses were proper and he pronounced the couple man and wife.

Grange Minstrel At Highlandtown Attended By 150

HIGHLANDTOWN — Approximately 150 attended the Highlandtown Grange annual minstrel show Friday night at the grange hall.

Participating in the program were Dale Rose, interlocutor; Ray Leatherberry, Bob Hays, Bob Mills and Carl Leatherberry, end men and soloists; Walter Boyd and Bob McPherson, end men and Jim Kessel, soloist.

Other performers were Bruce Thorne, playing the bones, Kenny Nichols, trumpet, Walter and Kim Boyd, guitar duets, and a boys' chorus and a men's quintet.

Accompaniment was provided by Nancy Clark, piano, and Kenny Nichols, trumpet. Decorations for the "Heart and Flowers" theme were two five-foot figures of men holding a scroll of music covered with hearts and flowers.

The minstrel was directed by Mrs. Kathryn Leatherberry and Mrs. Janet Taggart.

Moss Gets Ohio Jaycee Position

Frank Moss, East Liverpool Jaycee president, was named a state Jaycee vice president Friday night at a District 20 caucus during a Region 8 meeting at Alliance.

Moss and three others represented the East Liverpool chapter, all won awards.

Dave Darkow was a "Spoke" award winner, given a Jaycee for his first year participation; Charles Lang won a "Spark Plug" award, given a Jaycee who has been a member longer than one year, but who is not a local president or state officer, and Dick Darrah won the "Speakup" contest. The award is presented to the best speaker who chooses as his topic one line of the Jaycee creed.

Twelve represented the Wellsville chapter, eight from Lisbon and four from Columbiana.

Street To Be Closed During Bridge Work

LISBON — Southern Ave. in Columbiana will be closed one week beginning Monday for replacement of a bridge.

John Ursu, Columbiana County engineer, said the existing steel beam bridge on the town's southern boundary will be replaced with twin culverts.

The metal pipes will be 9 feet 4 inches wide and 6-3 high. Ursu said the project will cost about $5,000, with a county crew doing the work. The road surface over the pipes will be dirt, the same as the rest of the street.

The state of Texas is larger than England, France and West Germany combined — but still it would fit into the state of Alaska twice, with more than 50,000 square miles left over.

REV. JAMES S. FITCH
Guest Evangelist.

Revival Services Held Nightly At Glendale Church

The Rev. James S. Fitch, an elder in the Church of the Nazarene, with international headquarters at Kansas City, Mo., is evangelist for revival services being held nightly at 7:30 at the Glendale Church of the Nazarene in Newell. The services will end April 28.

He began his ministry in 1941 after attending Olivet Nazarene Church at Kankakee, Ill., and has remained an evangelist throughout his ministry. He has been influential in organizing three new churches.

Special music is featured nightly.

The Rev. G. A. Hazlett, pastor, said the public is invited.

Offers Pour In For King's 'Poor' Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organizers of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s Poor People's Campaign in Washington say they've been flooded by offers of support since the April 4 assassination of King.

"It brought an increase in the number of volunteers, particularly from the black community. Fifty per cent, I'd say," reported Anthony Henry, chief Washington organizer.

"Also a larger number of organizations are willing to release staff people full time to work with us."

Henry's storefront office, in the middle of an area that saw heavy destruction during rioting in Washington that followed the assassination, was much busier and more crowded than it had been a month ago.

Committee chairmen who four weeks ago were in desperate need of volunteers were loaning people to other committees.

"I have a volunteer who's on strike at the telephone company," one young man announced. "Can anybody use him?" He was sent immediately to deliver literature.

There is only one week left before the campaign is to begin its scheduled starting date of April 29 set back only one week from Dr. King's April 22 timetable.

Poor people are not scheduled to begin marching to the capital in large numbers until May 2, when a symbolic group will leave from Memphis, Tenn., where King was slain.

Retaining Wall Will Be Erected

LISBON — The Bricker Construction Co. of Salem has been hired for emergency work at Salineville in front of Hazlett's Market at the junction of Routes 39 (E. Main St.) and Route 164.

Mrs. George Hazlett asked the county commissioners for assistance after the front basement wall caved in about three weeks ago. The Route 39 right-of-way runs right up to the store front.

The county filled dirt in front of the store several years ago and built a sidewalk on the dirt as an approach to the "high bridge" immediately west of the market. The fill settled, the sidewalk above it broke and dropped and the store wall caved in.

County Engineer John Ursu said Bricker will build a heavy concrete retaining wall 23 feet long across the front of the store. The wall also will serve as the basement wall of the market. Commissioners adopted a resolution Thursday authorizing Ursu to have the work done. The cost will be approximately $3,000, he said.

County Legion Nominates 10 For Office In May 10 Voting

The Columbiana County American Legion Council nominated John Long of East Liverpool for commander at a meeting Friday night at Glenmoor Post 736. Long is a member of East Liverpool Post 374 and is first vice commander of the Council.

Nine others were nominated for five offices. Nominations will remain open until the election May 10 at Wellsville. Nominees are:

First vice commander — Ray Cunningham, East Liverpool, Roland Webber, Glenmoor.

Second vice commander — John Zundel, East Palestine, Densel McKinney, East Liverpool, and Sam Maylone, Wellsville.

Finance officer — Walter L. McCoy, Columbiana.

Chaplain — McKinney and Bernard D. Wright, Salineville. Sergeant — at arms — Leroy Patterson, East Liverpool.

William Grate, county commander, preside. Thirty-five attended, representing nine posts. Long reported there are 2,613 members in county posts. Maylone, Third Division commander, reported division membership is higher than this date last year.

Mel Lockhart of Post 736, Council bowling chairman, announced the Legion traveling league will bowl at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at Parkway Lanes in Alliance.

The Ohio State Patrol Auxiliary will have its annual convention April 27-28 at Columbus, Cunningham announced.

James Cregar of Post 374, 10th district commander, will preside at the district's spring conference April 28 at Doylestown. Chester Stellar of Creston, past Ohio commander, will speak.

County Legionnaires will visit veterans in Massillon State Hospital May 8. A caravan will leave Lisbon Post 275 at 5:30, and the tour will begin from the hospital administration building at 7:15. Council will provide lunch and game prizes for the patients.

Stanton High Honors 20 In Ceremonies

Twenty students were recognized for scholastic achievement during a National Honor Society candlelight ceremony at Stanton High School.

Elected to active membership during the annual initiation assembly in the school auditorium were Sara Householder, a senior, and Diane Haught, Linda Roberts, Debbie Stephens, Karen Ward and Sherry Williams, juniors.

Sophomores nominated for provisional membership included Sherry Cross, Marion Donohue, Janice Fichtner, Deborah Hoobler, Linda Lamp, Shirley Metz, Dave Norris, Pat Pysnak, Donna Racz, Cindy Reese, Tim Rini, Ed Sheets, Marsha Sprouse and Vivian Ward.

Guest speaker at the assembly was Frank Maus, director of management, development and training at the Weirton Steel Co. Maus discussed the importance of education "to meet the changes taking place in our society."

Introducing remarks were given by Harry Swartzlander, principal. Joseph Plesich, NHS adviser and guidance counselor, gave the NHS pledge.

Barnard Set For Another Transplant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Christian Barnard says he plans another heart transplant attempt in about six weeks, this one using permanently implanted silver studs as physiological signposts.

Barnard, leader of a South African team that performed the operation on the world's only living heart transplant patient — Dr. Philip Blaiberg — revealed plans for his third heart transplant operation at a Friday news conference in Washington.

He said surgeons will sew several silver clips around the edges of the heart after taking it from a newly dead person and implanting it in the chest of a gravely ill patient yet to be selected.

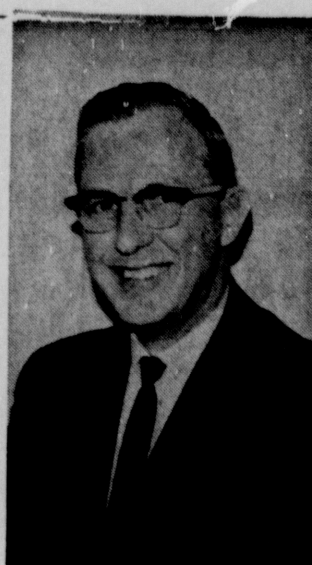

The idea will be to have the small silver clips serve as signposts to allow Barnard and his colleagues to quickly spot by X-ray any enlargement of the heart, however slight, following the transplant surgery.

At the same time Barnard reported that Blaiberg, who has now gone 109 days since his surgery, "is improving every day." "We doctors feel very happy about him," Barnard said. "He has improved beyond our expectations."

South Side Play Nets $170 For Junior Class

About $170 was obtained for the benefit of the South Side High School junior class at the annual junior play Friday night at the high school.

Some 300 attended. A gift was presented to Roger Colling, director. The cast held a winner roast after the play at the Georatown baseball field.

HARRY L. GIRTS
Will Be Evangelist.

Free Methodist Church To Open Revival Services

Revival services will be held at the Wellsville Free Methodist Church beginning Monday night at 7 and continuing nightly through April 28.

Evangelist Harry L. Girts of Newark, N. Y., will be in charge and Ted Cunningham will be song evangelist. The public is invited.

Evangelist Girts has been a pastor for 28 years. He has served as a youth evangelist, song evangelist, campmeeting speaker and for one year promoted evangelism at the Genesee Conference.

The Rev. D. C. Logston is host pastor.

Malone Selected For Boys State

SALINEVILLE — Ronald Ray Malone, 17, a junior at Southern Local High School, has been selected to attend Boys State.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Malone of RD 1.

The selection was based on a vote by the high school faculty.

Malone will be sponsored jointly by American Legion Post 442 of Salineville and the former Salineville Ruritan Club.

CTA Plans Event As Fund Project

The Citizens for Total Action will sponsor a smorgasbord at the East End Masonic Hall April 30 from 5 to 8 p.m. as the first fund raising project of the newly organized group.

The Youth Auxiliary, headed by Larry Fitch, plans a May dance to raise funds.

A news bulletin is now being published by the CTA with Alice L. Brooks as publicity chairman.

Play Presented During Meeting Of Local Lions

A one-act play, "What's Wrong with the Girls?" was presented by the East Liverpool High School Thespians Club during the Lions luncheon Friday at the Travelers Hotel.

The cast included Mac Ogilvie, Becky Daley, Dick Donahue and Janet Maltarch.

Introductions and set changes were handled by Arl Green. Keith Langdon, Thespians adviser, said the performance was the last of eight to be presented outside the school this year.

During the business session, Charles Haugh, president, reported five members attended the zone meeting at New Waterford.

The broom sale will be held April 29, 30 and May 1, he reminded members.

was "Waverley" Scott started the novel in 1805 but it was not until 1814 that it appeared without his name attached and was a great success.

Students Due Colorful View

By TOM FUTHEY

A rainbow of colors from imitation marble sinktops to vivid green chalkboards will greet students and teachers at the four new East Liverpool schools in September.

Most eye-catching of all the interior decorating is that in the high school where yellow epoxy paint is speckled with orange.

In the elementary schools, lively decors should brighten classroom hours for pupils who will be in their halls for nine months each year.

Supt. Paul Blair, who selected the colors with Robert Beatty, architect, and Assistant Supt. Carl Pellini, believes the new motifs will enhance learning by providing youngsters and the faculty with an atmosphere more conducive to the education process than in the past.

TAN, GREEN, blue and slate chalkboards will complement the overall pastel themes. In the elementary buildings, which are more than 85 per cent complete, walls holding the "blackboards" — a now obsolete term — are painted in vivid contrast to the rest of the room.

Teachers' lockers may be brown, bright orange or a variety of colors which fit into the basic room theme.

Metal panels under hallway windows in each elementary classroom are painted "Easter Egg" colors, as Blair describes them. Bright pinks, purples, blues and yellows prevail.

Epoxy paint is used in most cases to eliminate expensive painting, since the paint is washable.

The high school building is rapidly nearing its final form. The auditorium-gymnasium was being plastered this week. Seats have not yet been delivered for the gym or auditorium, but the wood flooring for the basketball area has been delivered. The auditorium will seat about 850.

No moving of equipment will be done to any degree before the end of the present term, Blair said.

THE SUPERINTENDENT said only useful items in the present schools will be transferred. Most of the desks in the elementary buildings will be moved, but only a few from the high school where the desks are generally fastened to the flooring, a style now outmoded.

"People will be real proud" of the buildings, Blair declared during a tour this week. The North and East Elementary buildings will hold 750 students, and LaCroft school about 725.

In the elementary schools, multi-purpose rooms house cafeterias which have tables that either fold up and are rolled out, or fold into the walls to provide for physical fitness programs.

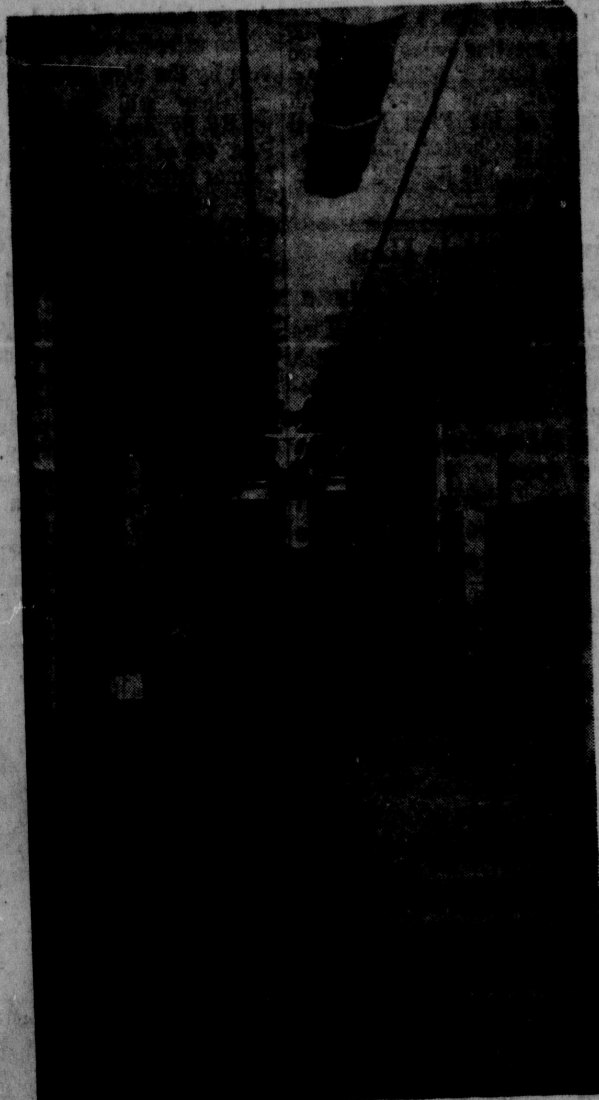

Each building will have a portable stage which can be set in the cafeteria. Spotlights for them already are in place. Shower rooms for boys and girls are located just off the cafeteria.

The little red school house may be gone forever, but the colors are brighter and better for the city's youngsters next year and the years to come.

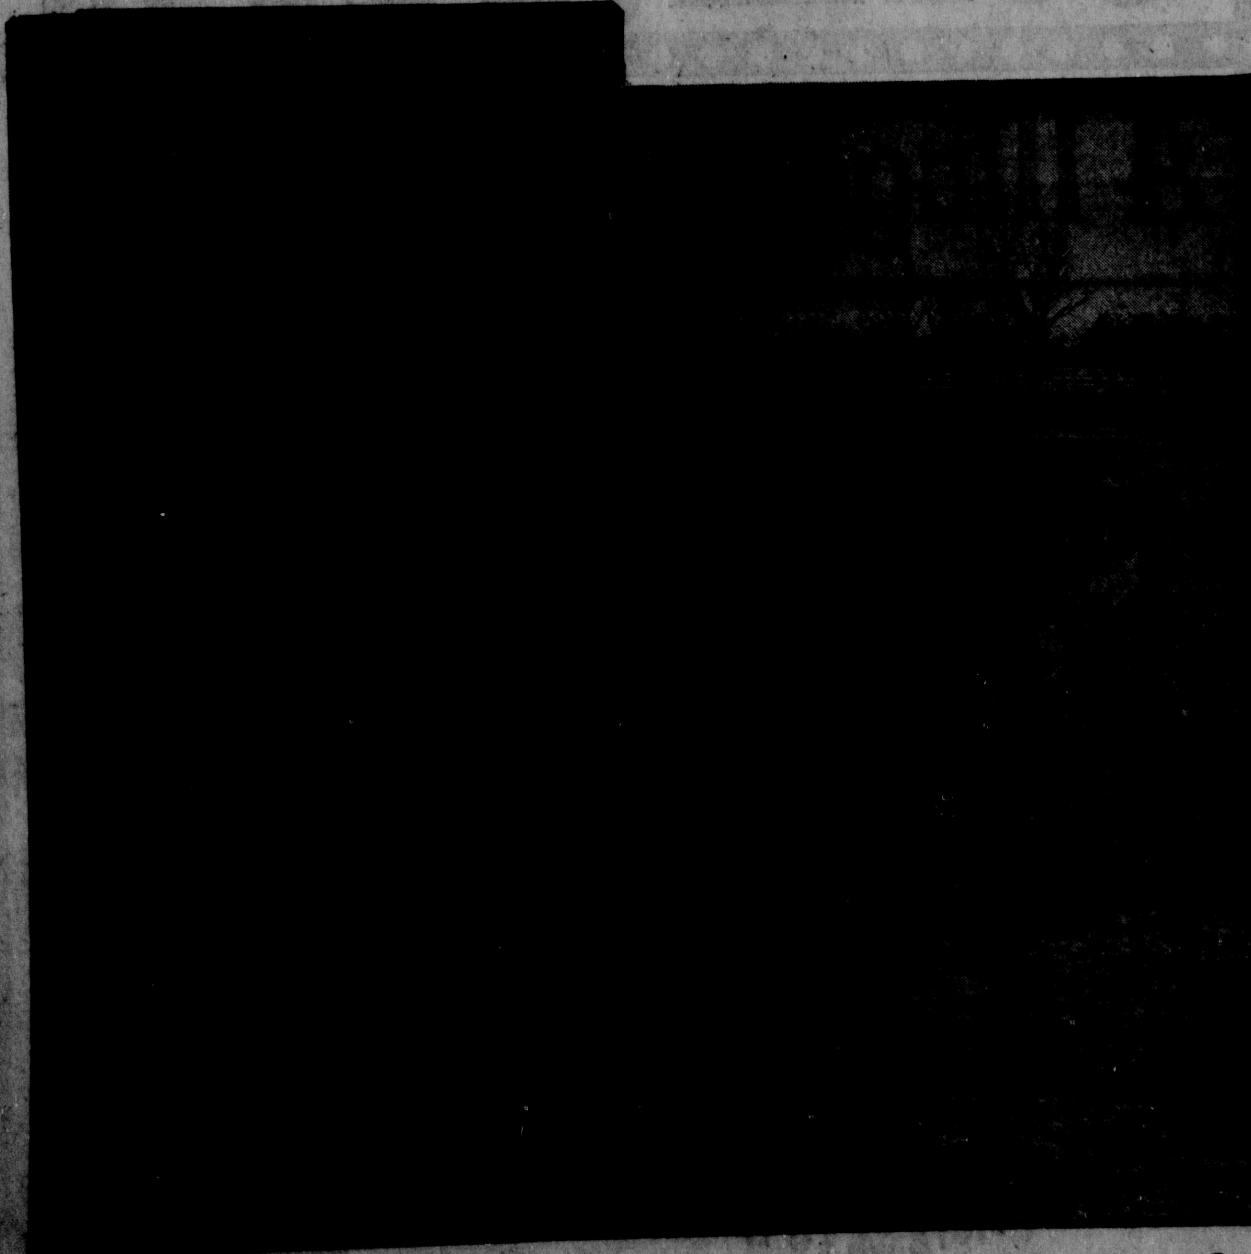

The new city school complex along Maine Blvd. is nearing completion as shown in this aerial view of the buildings which include the high school, top; vocational building, right; auditorium-gym, middle left, and North Elementary School, lower left.

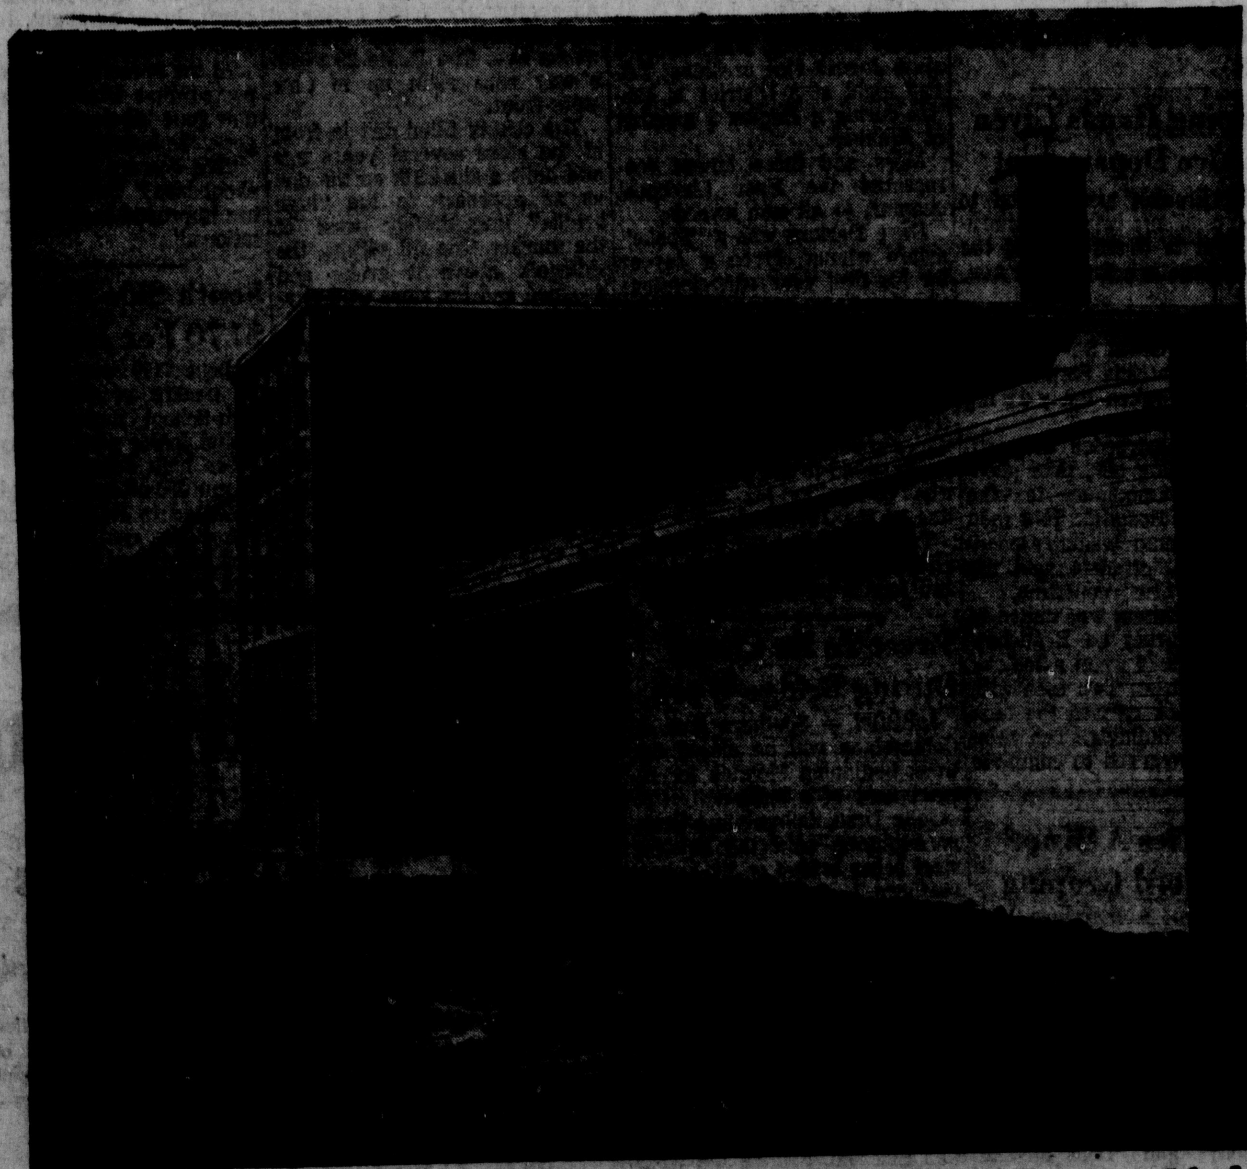

Modern lighting and new colors will brighten this hall in the North Elementary School when students begin attending classes next fall.

A service driveway is provided under the large ramp leading to the main entrance of the high school to permit unloading of vehicles at the cafeteria.

Large windows for the special education room open out upon the grounds of the new LaCroft School, the third centralized building in the $5,553,045 education project.

The clean geometrical lines of the main entrance and front of the East Elementary School contrast with the rutted mud in the front of the unfinished structure.

Outdoor Notes

By HARRY STEWART
Review Staff Member

FISHING IS GOOD — NORTHERN pike at Guilford, bass at Leesville and crappies at Mosquito. Bass also are hitting real good in the backwaters at the confluence of Tomlinson Run and the Ohio River near New Cumberland.

Trout fishing has been fair to excellent the past week in various parts of Pennsylvania and West Virginia. With the weather warming more each day, fishing should steadily improve.

The muskies appear to have about finished spawning and should start feeding real heavy very soon.

Ralph Drake, Columbiana County game protector, says several northern have been taken over the weed beds at Guilford. Fishing also is improving in Beaver Creek.

Don Barnes of Lisbon caught a 19-inch small mouth bass at Berlin Reservoir. This is a little unusual, because smallmouths are harder to catch in bigger bodies of water.

Bass have been biting steadily at Leesville while nice crappies are being taken from Berlin and Mosquito. A few walleyes are being caught at the latter two lakes, but the real run hasn't started.

IN HANCOCK COUNTY, Carl Kirkland, Hancock-Brooke game warden, says the bass are "biting real good" in the backwaters near New Cumberland.

Trout are being taken from Tomlinson Run. Two more stockings are planned, Carl says.

Non-residents of West Virginia can purchase an Ohio River license to fish the river. The cost is $2.25. Carl says the license can be purchased at the Courthouse at New Cumberland or any sporting goods shop or service station that sells licenses. There is an agency in Chester.

This permit allows non-residents to fish in the river only, from a boat or even from the shoreline.

I misinformed one caller on the regulation this week. Carl says the fisherman can fish from the shoreline, but cautioned against fishing past the "imaginary line" of any inlet. Just fish in the main body of the river and you are safe, he says.

ANYONE CATCHING a striped bass from the river is asked to call Carl, who resides in New Cumberland.

Carl says they need the entire fish, intact. He will put it on ice and rush it to Charleston for study. The owner will get the fish back after the biologists are through.

THERE IS AN ODD LAW on the books in West Virginia. An individual can be considered to be hunting or fishing as long as he is carrying any of the related equipment — that is if he isn't carrying the proper license.

It probably is not enforced, but never the less it is there. Cross the wrong enforcement officer at the wrong time and it could be.

You don't even have to be near a body of water or an area for hunting.

Purchase a rod and reel from a sporting goods store, walk out onto the street and you are breaking the law if you do not have a license. A few arrests on this law and many non-residents along bordering states might start thinking twice before shopping in the stores of the West Virginia merchants.

A STATEWIDE PUBLIC hearing on proposed changes in fish and game harvest regulations will be held next Thursday at 10 a.m. in Hearing Room II at the State Office Building, Columbus.

The district hearings were held today. The state no longer conducts area hearings for each county.

OPEN HOUSE will be held at state parks, hatcheries and wildlife areas Sunday.

At Beaver Creek State Park, Elmer Hiles, manager, said guides will be available to show visitors highlights of the facilities.

Fifty new camping sites were prepared for use the past winter at the primitive camp area.

At Sprucevale, the workers cleared away the underbrush, installed two new outdoor toilets and have placed some picnic tables along the creek area.

New trails have been opened in the park system. Boy Scouts will be camped at the Sprucevale area this year.

The Akron Fish Hatchery will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Included in the program are test net operations, showing of the hatchery operation, native fish in aquariums, slide shows on fish propagation, mounted animals and a law enforcement display. The nets will be raised at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

At Highlandtown Wildlife Area, personnel will be on hand at the area headquarters and new lake to answer questions and direct the public to points of interest.

WHEN YOU PURCHASED your new Ohio fishing license, you probably were given one of the new illustrated Ohio Fishing Guides.

The Natural Resources Department ordered 700,000 of these and the first lot cost $34,500, just under 5 cents each. This is compared with the one cent cost of the "Fishing Digest" of rules and regulations given the $55,500 license purchasers in 1967.

Money for the folders came from the increase in license fees from $2 to $4. Officials say the money for the folders does not deprive other projects of funds for expansion of activities.

A similar Ohio Hunting Guide is due to appear soon.

GOOD SPOTS. Heads of pools are good places to tangle with large trout. The largest trout occupies the best hiding-feeding place which is usually at the head or very near the head of the pool.

The big boy is first in line in the food lane. He lies close up under protection of the fast tumbling mass of water, and his water is comfortably aerated.

Very few anglers fish the head of a pool. They usually fish too far below and often stand where they should fish.

Tails of pools are the next hottest spots as living quarters of large trout. If there is no fairly deep water at the head of the pool the largest trout will be at the tail of the pool, in the dead-water area just in front of a large boulder where the water breaks out of the pool.

It's a very exciting experience to snag a husky trout about rod-length away and tumble him over the lip of the pool for a splashy tussle in the riffles below. These trout always seem extra mad, determined to escape, because they see you standing below in the riffles as soon as they start dashing out so fast for the lure they cannot avoid being hooked.

The lure is dapped about three feet upstream so the trout can easily see it from their hiding places back under the edge of a boulder. Three feet of 3X monofilament line is used for a dapping leader and only the lure is allowed to touch the water.

WATER FLOW. An angler who wades into the main current of a swiftly flowing stream doesn't need to be told that moving water has force.

The current that threatens to sweep him off his feet one day may scarcely have enough energy to move a floating leaf the next, and the day after it may surge downstream, taking large rocks with it. But change and movement are all part of a stream.

A stream channel is continuously shaped and reshaped by the flow of water in it. Rock fragments are moved from one place to another. And they are subject to further reshuffling if the velocity of the stream increases, like after a heavy rain.

This redistribution of material — the erosion here, the deposition there — is all part of the process by which a stream tries to reach an equilibrium — that is, so it can flow along with a minimum of obstructions to curb its journey.

A stream transports materials by pushing, rolling, or skipping them along its bed. Small particles, such as clay, soil, and tiny sand grains, are frequently carried in suspension by the stream. When this happens the water becomes muddy.

As the current slows down the particles begin to settle out. A large stream may move tons of sediments this way. Some things, like certain minerals and salts, may even be dissolved and carried along in solution.

THE FASTER a current flows the more scouring it can do. Its power greatly increases as its velocity increases. A current of about one foot per second can move sand particles up to about 1/2 of an inch in diameter. A current twice as fast can move particles up to twice that size, or about 1 1/2 of an inch. If the velocity increases to about 5 feet per second rocks up to 2 1/2 inches in size may be moved along the streambed; and during a torrent a stream may move large boulders.

You might be surprised to learn how much water flows down a stream. A stream that is 3 feet deep, 10 feet wide at the bottom and 15 feet wide at the surface, and moving at 60 feet per minute (one foot per second) has a flow of about 14,400 gallons per minute.

You can estimate the amount of water flowing in a stream by using the following formula: flow in gallons per minute equal width of stream at surface plus width of stream bed times average depth times velocity in feet per minutes times 3.2.

With so much water flowing, you might suspect that a polluted stream will purify itself in a certain distance. Well, it can. Fast streams are better at recovering from pollution than sluggish ones.

Oddly enough, some pollution can actually help a stream by encouraging the growth of certain useful aquatic life. But uncontrolled pollution frequently tips the scales of nature too far in the wrong direction.

'Daroo II' Due At Jaycee Show

This futuristically designed show car which cost $45,000 to build will be on display at the Jaycees show Wednesday through Saturday.

Vicki Deshler of Radio Heights, candidate in the Miss Columbiana County pageant, and Keith Clutter, Jaycee board representative on the home show project, are shown with the "Daroo II, a customized Dodge competition roadster.

The 42-inch high, topless two-seater was created from design suggestions by Ron Fereau's Imperial Customs of Tulsa, Okla., and has a 340-inch, 275 horsepower V-8 engine.

The auto has been on a show tour, but has not been displayed yet in Pittsburgh or New York, according to Al Green of M. & A. Dodge who obtained the car for exhibit here.

The Younger Set

The air is electric in area high schools as students prepare for parties, proms, pomp and circumstance in these final few months of the school term. Activities have become more numerous with prom plans nearly completed. The "holier-than-thou" seniors find it difficult to attend classes when they're "sure" they'll graduate in June!

DIAMOND DEMONS? — No, there's not an outbreak of some rare growth on the ears of baseball fans, they're just smuggling against transistor radios tuned into the Pirates or Indians — or, for variety, sports news (ugh!) It would be interesting to see the fans at home; wonder if they press their fevered brows against the television screens?

"MOD." NOT ODD — "The Happening" has been chosen as the theme for Wellsville High's post prom with the "New Breed" playing in Virginia Gardens. The prom Friday will feature the sound of "Liberty Brass" EINSTEIN'S LAB? — MacDonald Elementary School has taken on a new look, what with the science fair in progress. The fair, open to the public this weekend, promises to be an education to any scientific-minded guy or gal.

HERE COMES THE BRIDE — South Side juniors in the play "Hillbilly Wedding" will be wed this weekend on the ol' homestead. Director Roger Cooling indicated the three-act comedy may be the most 'interesting' wedding anyone's ever attended! . . . THE CONSTITUTION — No, not that old faithful frigate, but the lost constitution of the National Honor Society is what's on everyone's mind. With the help of Coach Don Charlton and Mrs. Mable Herron, a new set of "laws" is being drawn up and put into effect this coming year. . . . UP TIGHT! — In case you lead a sheltered life and haven't heard "Tighten Up," a fairly new platter, do make a point of it. FISHING IS GOOD — NORTHERN pike at Guilford, bass at Leesville and crappies at Mosquito. Bass also are hitting real good in the backwaters at the confluence of Tomlinson Run and the Ohio River near New Cumberland.

Trout fishing has been fair to excellent the past week in various parts of Pennsylvania and West Virginia. With the weather warming more each day, fishing should steadily improve.

The muskies appear to have about finished spawning and should start feeding real heavy very soon.

Ralph Drake, Columbiana County game protector, says several northern bass have been taken over the weed beds at Guilford. Fishing also is improving in Beaver Creek.

Don Barnes of Lisbon caught a 19-inch small mouth bass at Berlin Reservoir. This is a little unusual, because smallmouths are harder to catch in bigger bodies of water.

Bass have been biting steadily at Leesville while nice crappies are being taken from Berlin and Mosquito. A few walleyes are being caught at the latter two lakes, but the real run hasn't started.

IN HANCOCK COUNTY, Carl Kirkland, Hancock-Brooke game warden, says the bass are "biting real good" in the backwaters near New Cumberland.

Trout are being taken from Tomlinson Run. Two more stockings are planned, Carl says.

Non-residents of West Virginia can purchase an Ohio River license to fish the river. The cost is $2.25. Carl says the license can be purchased at the Courthouse at New Cumberland or any sporting goods shop or service station that sells licenses. There is an agency in Chester.

This permit allows non-residents to fish in the river only, from a boat or even from the shoreline.

I misinformed one caller on the regulation this week. Carl says the fisherman can fish from the shoreline, but cautioned against fishing past the "imaginary line" of any inlet. Just fish in the main body of the river and you are safe, he says.

ANYONE CATCHING a striped bass from the river is asked to call Carl, who resides in New Cumberland.

Carl says they need the entire fish, intact. He will put it on ice and rush it to Charleston for study. The owner will get the fish back after the biologists are through.

THERE IS AN ODD LAW on the books in West Virginia. An individual can be considered to be hunting or fishing as long as he is carrying any of the related equipment — that is if he isn't carrying the proper license.

It probably is not enforced, but never the less it is there. Cross the wrong enforcement officer at the wrong time and it could be.

You don't even have to be near a body of water or an area for hunting.

Purchase a rod and reel from a sporting goods store, walk out onto the street and you are breaking the law if you do not have a license. A few arrests on this law and many non-residents along bordering states might start thinking twice before shopping in the stores of the West Virginia merchants.

A STATEWIDE PUBLIC hearing on proposed changes in fish and game harvest regulations will be held next Thursday at 10 a.m. in Hearing Room II at the State Office Building, Columbus.

The district hearings were held today. The state now conducts area hearings for each county.

OPEN HOUSE will be held at state parks, hatcheries and wildlife areas Sunday.

At Beaver Creek State Park, Elmer Hiles, manager, said guides will be available to show visitors highlights of the facilities.

Fifty new camping sites were prepared for use the past winter at the primitive camp area.

At Sprucevale, the workers cleared away the underbrush, installed two new outdoor toilets and have placed some picnic tables along the creek area.

New trails have been opened in the park system. Boy Scouts will be camped at the Sprucevale area this year.

The Akron Fish Hatchery will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Included in the program are test net operations, showing of the hatchery operation, native fish in aquariums, slide shows on fish propagation, mounted animals and a law enforcement display. The nets will be raised at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

At Highlandtown Wildlife Area, personnel will be on hand at the area headquarters and new lake to answer questions and direct the public to points of interest.

WHEN YOU PURCHASED your new Ohio fishing license, you probably were given one of the new illustrated Ohio Fishing Guides.

The Natural Resources Department ordered 700,000 of these and the first lot cost $34,500, just under 5 cents each. This is compared with the one cent cost of the "Fishing Digest" of rules and regulations given the 855,500 license purchasers in 1967.

Money for the folders came from the increase in license fees from $2 to $4. Officials say the money for the folders does not deprive other projects of funds for expansion of activities.

A similar Ohio Hunting Guide is due to appear soon.

GOOD SPOTS. Heads of pools are good places to tangle with large trout. The largest trout occupies the best hiding-feeding place which is usually at the head or very near the head of the pool.

The big boy is first in line in the food lane. He lies close up under protection of the fast tumbling mass of water, and his water is comfortably aerated.

Very few anglers fish the head of a pool. They usually fish too far below and often stand where they should fish.

Tails of pools are the next hottest spots as living quarters of large trout. If there is no fairly deep water at the head of the pool the largest trout will be at the tail of the pool, in the dead-water area just in front of a large boulder where the water breaks out of the pool.

It's a very exciting experience to snag a husky trout about rod-length away and tumble him over the lip of the pool for a splashy tussle in the riffles below. These trout always seem extra mad, determined to escape, because they see you standing below in the riffles as soon as they start dashing out so fast for the lure they cannot avoid being hooked.

The lure is dapped about three feet upstream so the trout can easily see it from their hiding places back under the edge of a boulder. Three feet of 3X monofilament line is used for a dapping leader and only the lure is allowed to touch the water.

WATER FLOW. An angler who wades into the main current of a swiftly flowing stream doesn't need to be told that moving water has force.

The current that threatens to sweep him off his feet one day may scarcely have enough energy to move a floating leaf the next, and the day after it may surge downstream, taking large rocks with it. But change and movement are all part of a stream.

A stream channel is continuously shaped and reshaped by the flow of water in it. Rock fragments are moved from one place to another. And they are subject to further reshuffling if the velocity of the stream increases, like after a heavy rain.

This redistribution of material — the erosion here, the deposition there — is all part of the process by which a stream tries to reach an equilibrium — that is, so it can flow along with a minimum of obstructions to curb its journey.

A stream transports materials by pushing, rolling, or skipping them along its bed. Small particles, such as clay, soil, and tiny sand grains, are frequently carried in suspension by the stream. When this happens the water becomes muddy.

As the current slows down the particles begin to settle out. A large stream may move tons of sediments this way. Some things, like certain minerals and salts, may even be dissolved and carried along in solution.

THE FASTER a current flows the more scouring it can do. Its power greatly increases as its velocity increases. A current of about one foot per second can move sand particles up to about 1/2 of an inch in diameter. A current twice as fast can move particles up to twice that size, or about 1 1/2 of an inch. If the velocity increases to about 5 feet per second rocks up to 2 1/2 inches in size may be moved along the streambed; and during a torrent a stream may move large boulders.

You might be surprised to learn how much water flows down a stream. A stream that is 3 feet deep, 10 feet wide at the bottom and 15 feet wide at the surface, and moving at 60 feet per minute (one foot per second) has a flow of about 14,400 gallons per minute.

You can estimate the amount of water flowing in a stream by using the following formula: flow in gallons per minute equal width of stream at surface plus width of stream bed times average depth times velocity in feet per minutes times 3.2.

With so much water flowing, you might suspect that a polluted stream will purify itself in a certain distance. Well, it can. Fast streams are better at recovering from pollution than sluggish ones.

Oddly enough, some pollution can actually help a stream by encouraging the growth of certain useful aquatic life. But uncontrolled pollution frequently tips the scales of nature too far in the wrong direction.

Giants Knock Bunning Out In 8th, Beat Pirates, 5-2

Jim Britton Blanks Reds For Braves

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Britton, warming up for his first major league start, hurt his arm. And then things got worse.

The young Atlanta right-hander surrendered hits to Cincinnati's first two hitters Friday night and seemed ripe for an early shower. But the first of four Atlanta double plays rescued him and he came on to pitch a seven-hitter and shut out the Reds 3-0.

Britton rode consecutive third inning homers by Hank Aaron and Sandy Valdespino and three more Atlanta DP's to the victory—the third straight for the Braves.

In other National League action Friday, Chris Short hurled a three-hitter as Philadelphia shipped Houston, 2-1. Jim Hart and Willie Mays led San Francisco to a 5-2 victory over Pittsburgh. Orlando Cepeda and Dick Simpson smashed two-run homers as St. Louis crushed Chicago 9-2 and Los Angeles squeezed past New York 3-2.

Detroit's game at Chicago was postponed by cold weather. "My arm was dead," confessed Britton after beating the Reds. "That's the first time I haven't struck out anybody in a game. I guess you have to fitness them a little bit."

Britton finished the Reds plenty in the opening inning when singles by Pete Rose and Alex Johnson put men on first and second. The youngster got dangerous Vada Pinson on a pop foul and then fed Tony Perez the double play pitch.

In the third, he ran into trouble again with two on and two out. But again he got Pinson, ending the threat. After that, it was all downhill.

Aaron's shot followed Sonny Jackson's two-out walk in the third and then Valdespino connected for his first National League home run. "It feels good to win," said Britton.

It felt good, too, for Rich Allen, who tagged his first home run of the year and helped Short beat the Astros. Allen, who missed the final two months last season after cutting his hand in an accident, had managed just one extra base hit in the first eight games this year. "I'm just glad to hit one hard," he said.

Bobby Wine also homered for the Phillies and John Bateman spoiled Short's bid for the shut-out with an eighth inning shot for the Astros. Short struck out nine.

Mays drilled a run-scoring single and Hart followed with a two-run homer that broke an eighth inning tie and beat Pittsburgh's Jim Bunning for the Giants.

Willie McCovey also homered for the Giants as Juan Murichal won his second game.

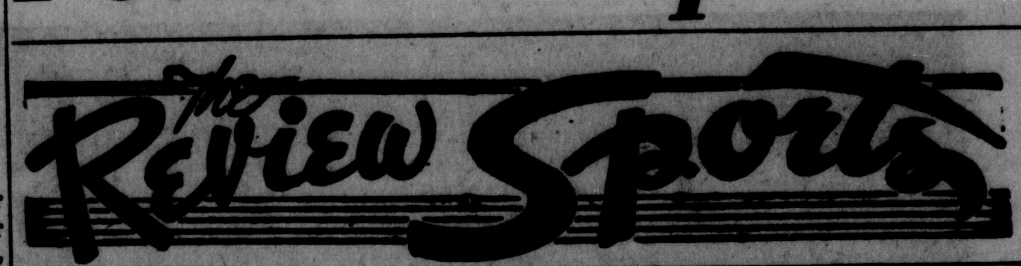

Simpson's two-run homer and Lou Brock's two-run triple got the Cardinals started against Chicago. Later, Cepeda hit his second homer of the year after Curt Flood had extended his hitting streak to nine games.

Rookies Mike Torres and Hal Gilson combined for the eighth-inning "Torres" first major league victory.

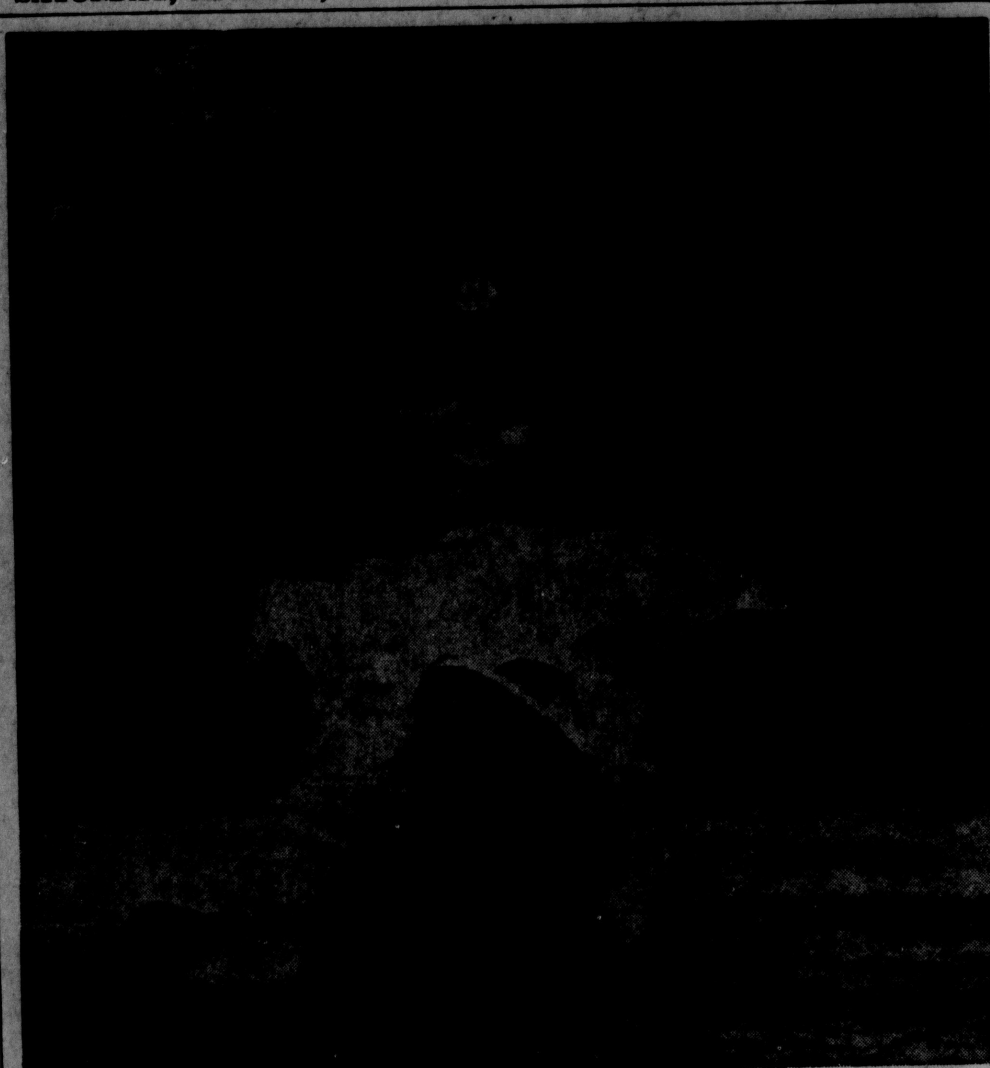

Claude Osteen pitched a six-hitter and beat the Mets when Jim Lefebvre's eighth-inning double snapped a 1-1 tie and Rocky Colavito's single drove in an insurance run.

The Dodgers needed the extra run when Ron Swoboda opened the ninth with a home run but Osteen got the next three hitters to end it.

Nats' Coleman Shuts Out A's; Red Sox Blast Tribe

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Oakland isn't much of a city to visit, says Joe Coleman of the Washington Senators, but it's a good place to play cards and a better place to pitch.

"I don't mean to say anything bad about Oakland," Coleman said, "but there's nothing to do here. We woke up at 7 this morning (Friday) and there was nothing to do so we sat around and played cards."

But then Friday night rolled around and Coleman started pitching, and now Oakland wishes he hadn't come at all. The 21-year-old right-hander pitched the Senators to a 3-0 victory over Oakland for his first major league shutout.

Coleman, 2-0 last season and 3-0 in parts of two other seasons with the Senators, allowed only six hits and had only minor problems with the A's as he won his first game of 1968 without a loss.

Another second-year man, Gary Waslewski, also hurled a six-hitter and Boston clobbered Cleveland 9-2 in a game of hit batsmen in which the pitchers did almost as much hitting as the batters.

The California Angels edged Baltimore 2-1 in 10 innings on Bobby Knoop's hit in the only other game.

Detroit's game at Chicago was postponed because of cold weather and Minnesota and New York were not scheduled.

Coleman, who probably will be looking forward to another visit to Oakland, outdueled Jim Nash with the help of Frank Howard's third home run and the hitting and fielding of second baseman Frank Ciggins.

Ciggins, who had three hits, tripled in the fifth inning and scored on an infield out. After Howard made it 2-0 in the sixth, Ciggins snared a line drive with two on and none out in the bottom of the inning and turned it into a double play. Then he made a diving stop for the third out.

Mike Epstein closed the scoring in the ninth with his first homer.

"I felt a little keyed up in the first inning," said Coleman, who gave up three unearned runs in 2-3 innings in his only other start, "but that was good. It made me pitch better."

"We really needed a complete game to give our bullpen a rest," said Washington Manager Jim Lemon after watching Coleman pitch only the second complete game for the Senators this season.

Waslewski fell behind 2-0 on Tony Horton's two-run homer, but Carl Yastrzemski's double tied the count in the third and his second double broke the tie in the fifth. The Red Sox hammered out 12 hits.

But Waslewski and Indian starter Sonny Siebert got in some knocks, too. Waslewski hit two batters and Siebert and Kurtis one each and other hitters found themselves hitting the dirt to avoid pitches despite warnings by the umpires.

Knoop's run-scoring single with one out off reliever Eddie Watt followed a walk to Bob Rodgers and a wild pitch.

George Brunet of the Angels and Bruce Howard of the Orioles battled through seven innings, both with four-hitters, before leaving with the score tied 1-1 on Rick Reichardt's second-inning homer for California and a sacrifice fly by Mark Belanger of Baltimore in the fourth.

Pony League Teams Announce Rosters

The Pony League rosters for 1968 have been announced by player agent Don Smith.

Burbick's, managed by Dean Demore, will have Chandleis Black, Mike Board, Jim Cupp, Randy Moore, Thomas Samples, David Smith, Richard Keys, Davis Beaver, Donald Lawson, Ron Reed, Jim Tipton, Mike Bamfield, Rick Aaron, Ben Gregory, Brendan Hoffman, Gary McDonald and Dave Hill.

Woodbine's, managed by Don Hildebrand, has Terry Gill, Don Harris, George Hanlon, Keith LeMasters, Mark Goddard, Kevin Francis, Mike Dauka, Tom Doughty, Randy Baker, Ryan Reed, Mike Forzano, Grover Dyke, Kirk Martin, Scott Looman, Charles Bell, Randy Harman, Phil Lascola, Rick Lockhart, Tom Rose, Steve Hanselman and Phil Ferrello.

Any player not on this list who played last year should report to the team he played for last year.

Opening practices are Monday at 5:30, with Sevy's at Thompson Park and Litten's at Beaver Local. Tuesday at 5:30 Burbick's is at Thompson Park and Woodbine's at Beaver Local.

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston A.A. Marathon championship is back in the United States for the first time in 11 years and only the second since World War II today because a pupil listened to his tutor.

Lanky Ambrose Burfoot, the New England intercollegiate cross country champion from Groton, Conn., proved he learned his lessons well from veteran Johnny Kelley as he captured the 72nd annual Hopkinton-to-Boston Classic Friday.

Burfoot automatically qualified for the U.S. Olympic marathon trial at Alamosa, Colo., in August. Clark, who said he suffered cramps going down the hills, hopes to qualify for the Olympics in either the marathon or the 10,000 meter run.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Debbie Meyer of Sacramento, Calif., shattered her second women's record in two days when she swam the 200-yard freestyle in 1:52.1 at the AAU spring championships.

Wellsburg Scores 2 In Inning 11

WELLSBURG — East Liverpool's winning streak in baseball was stopped at six straight when the Potters dropped a tough, 5-4 decision to Wellsburg in an 11-inning game here Friday.

Tied at 3-3 entering the 11th frame, Coach Jim Potts' Potters scored the go ahead run in the 11th for a 4-3 lead but Wellsburg bounced back with a pair of runs in its half of the inning to hand East Liverpool its first setback of the season.

Jim Musuraca went all the way for the Potters giving up eight hits over 11 frames while striking out nine batters. In the final inning, Wellsburg put two bases on balls and a pair of singles together for the two runs.

Steve Metz, who relieved Steve Pollock in the 11th, singled in Ron Ujich to tie the score at 4-4. Larry Sadler then worked Musuraca for a walk that forced in the winning run.

Wellsburg has now won their last eight games after losing the first three, two of those to the Potters.

East Liverpool broke a 3-3 tie in the eleventh when Schuck doubled then later scored on Bob Bartram's single.

Wellsburg scored a single run in the first inning then two more in the second. The Potters tallied single runs in the second, fourth and sixth frames.

East Liverpool came up with nine hits and committed only two errors. Bill Montgomery and Musuraca led the Potters at the plate with two hits each. Eddy and Sadler hit safely twice for Wellsburg.

Chamberlain Big Puzzle

Celtics Turn Back 76ers, Face Lakers For Crown

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Boston Celtics' achievements take up plenty of space in the National Basketball Association record books. And just when it looked as if the Philadelphia 76ers were about to start a dynasty of their own the old boys came up with another piece of history.

The aging Celtics edged the 76ers 100-96 Friday night in the seventh and final game of their Eastern Division championship playoffs, becoming the first team in NBA history to win a seven-game series after trailing 3-1.

As amazing as the Celtics' comeback was the Wilt Chamberlain puzzle. The greatest offensive player the game has ever known took one shot and scored only two points in the second half. He wound up with 14 points.

Coach Alex Hannum said he was as puzzled as the 15,202 fans at the Spectrum. "From my point of view we got the ball in there for him to handle," Hannum said. "We played 'center-in basketball.' It was a question of hitting the open man. I never told him not to shoot the ball. The answer is simple—He didn't shoot the ball. There was no intention on my part to take the ball out of the pivot."

Chamberlain said he was aware he wasn't getting many shots. "That's the way our plays ran. I tried to hit the open man. We had men open. I can't do what I'm not told to do, and I'm not faulting anybody. The plays weren't for me. They were good plays but they didn't materialize."

The answer probably is twofold. Chamberlain played the way he has all season, setting up plays out of the pivot, but the 76ers were cold from the field for the third straight game. They shot 35.2 per cent, and you don't win championships with that kind of shooting. And give Boston some credit. The Celtics played tough defense.

The hard-fought game was tied five times in the fourth quarter before John Havlicek hit a 15-foot jumper for an 89-88 Boston lead with 4:41 remaining.

SQUEEZE PLAY. With 32 seconds left in the NBA playoff game in Philadelphia Friday night, the 76ers' Wilt Chamberlain put the squeeze on the Celtics' Don Nelson and gained a jump ball but it was too late and the Celtics won the Eastern Division championship, 100-96. (UPI Telephoto)

ing. Philadelphia never did catch up.

Celtics, player-coach Bill Russell scored 12 points, grabbed 26 rebounds, and blocked countless shots in what Chamberlain and other 76ers described as a magnificent performance. Sam Jones led a balanced Boston attack with 22 points. Havlicek scored 21, Larry Siegfried 18 and Bailey Howell 17.

Said Russell after the game: "I'm going to tell you something. I was never more worried about a game than this one. It was the seventh and final and away from home. It was a tough situation. But we haven't won anything yet," he said, looking ahead to the NBA title series starting Sunday afternoon in Boston against Western champion Los Angeles.

The championship playoff series in the American Basketball Association resumes tonight with New Orleans at Pittsburgh. Pittsburgh beat the Bucs Thursday night in the first game of the best-of-7 set. The third and fourth games will be played next week in New Orleans.

Beavers Win 4-2 Over South Side

Beaver Local jumped out to a 4-0 lead then went on to defeat South Side 4-2 Friday at the Beavers diamond.

It was the sixth win in seven games for the Beavers who unleashed an 11-hit attack against three South Side hurlers. Mike Platt was the winning hurler giving up six hits until Bob Flint took over in the sixth inning.

With a 4-0 lead, Platt pitched out of real trouble in the fifth inning. With the bases loaded and no outs, Platt got out of the inning by giving up only one run.

Beaver Local scored two runs in the opening frame when Dan Myers and Rex Campbell singled then pulled off a double steal. Dennis Kiernara then singled home both runners.

In the third inning, Bob Flint walked, stole second then came home on a Campbell single.

Campbell stole second then scored on a Lew Brown base hit.

South Side scored once in the fifth and another in the sixth inning.

Campbell, continued to smack the ball over the 500 clip with a perfect three-for-three day at the plate. Myers and Brown added two hits each for the Beavers.

Ron Peden collected two of South Side's eight hits and Cox smacked a double for the Rams. Laughlin, the starting pitcher, was checked with the loss. Ashcroft and Doak followed to the mound.

Beaver Local opens tournament play Monday at 4 p. m. against Brookfield at Pemberton Park in Youngstown.

National League Due To Expand To 12 In '69

CHICAGO (AP) — The National League will expand to 12 teams next season and, like the already expanded American League, probably will have divisional playoffs.

The NL originally had a target of no later than 1971 for expansion to 12 teams but was spurred to the earlier date by the fast-moving American League.

Warren Giles, president of the NL, left no doubt here Friday, at a league meeting, that his circuit will follow suit in splitting into two divisions. The only problem left unresolved was the choosing of the two new cities.

The AL has already said it will start 1969 with new teams in Kansas City and Seattle and meets in Chicago next Thursday to make up the two six-team divisions. The winner of each division would meet to determine a World Series representative against the rival NL.

Bidding for NL franchises are Milwaukee, San Diego, Dallas-Fort Worth, Buffalo and Montreal.

Milwaukee and San Diego already have major league playing facilities but the other three areas could be ready by next season if selected.

Giles said the league hopes to decide on the new franchises before the All-Star game in July. Unanimous league approval is required on each of the sites.

Traffic Jam Looms Today In Golf Event

By BOB MYERS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A major traffic jam shaped up today in the third round of the $100,000 Tournament of Champions, with veterans Don January and Don Sikas sharing the lead and seven others hot on their heels.

January, 36, the gaunt Texan from Dallas, and Sikas, 37, a contracting attorney from Jacksonville, Fla., were deadlocked at 128, four strokes under par for 36 holes.

January, with rounds of 70-68 and Sikas with 69-70, led the field of 25 professionals over the 6,700-yard, par-36-71 Star-dust Country Club course.

Seven players were within three strokes of the co-leaders. Gardner Dickinson was alone at 130. Bob Goody, George Archer and Julius Boros were tied at 132, and Bob Charles, Dave Mackenzie and Randy Glover were knotted at 141.

The defending champion, Frank Beard, after scoring to a 137 the first day, came back with a 71.

Giants Knock Bunning Out In 8th, Beat Pirates, 5-2

Jim Britton Blanks Reds For Braves

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Britton, warming up for his first major league start, hurt his arm. And then things got worse.

The young Atlanta right-hander surrendered hits to Cincinnati's first two hitters Friday night and seemed ripe for an early shower. But the first of four Atlanta double plays rescued him and he came on to pitch a seven-hitter and shut out the Reds 3-0.

Britton rode consecutive third inning homers by Hank Aaron and Sandy Valdespino and three more Atlanta DPs to the victory—the third straight for the Braves.

In other National League action Friday, Chris Short hurled a three-hitter as Philadelphia hipped Houston, 2-1. Jim Hart and Willie Mays led San Francisco to a 5-2 victory over Pittsburgh. Orlando Cepeda and Dick Simpson smashed two-run homers as St. Louis crushed Chicago 9-2 and Los Angeles squeezed past New York 3-2.

Detroit's game at Chicago was postponed by cold weather.

"My arm was dead," confessed Britton after beating the Reds. "That's the first time I haven't struck out anybody in a game. I guess you have to fessize them a little bit."

Britton fanned the Reds plenty in the opening inning when singles by Pete Rose and Alex Johnson put men on first and second. The youngster got dangerous Vada Pinson on a pop foul and then fed Tony Perez the double play pitch.

In the third, he ran into trouble again with two on and two out. But again he got Pinson, ending the threat. After that, it was all downhill.

Aaron's shot followed Sonny Jackson's two-out walk in the third and then Valdespino connected for his first National League home run. "It feels good to win," said Britton.

It felt good, too, for Rich Allen, who tagged his first home run of the year and helped Short beat the Astros. Allen, who missed the final two months last season after cutting his hand in an accident, had managed just one extra base hit in the first eight games this year. "I'm just glad to hit one here," he said.

Bobby Wine also homered for the Phillies and John Bateman spoiled Short's bid for the shut-out with an eighth inning shot for the Astros. Short struck out nine.

Mays drilled a run-scoring single and Hart followed with a two-run homer that broke an eighth inning tie and beat Pittsburgh's Jim Bunning for the Giants.

Willie McCovey also homered for the Giants as Juan Murichal won his second game.

Simpson's two-run homer and Lou Brock's two-run triple got the Cardinals started against Chicago. Later, Cepeda hit his second homer of the year after Curt Flood had extended his hitting streak to nine games.

Rookies Mike Torrez and Hal Gilson combined for the eighth-inning homer. Torrez' first major league victory.

Claude Osteen pitched a six-hitter and beat the Mets when Jim Lefebvre's eighth-inning double snapped a 1-1 tie and Rocky Colavito's single drove in an insurance run.

The Dodgers made the extra run when Ron Swoboda opened the ninth with a home run but Osteen got the next three hitters to end it.

Nats' Coleman Shuts Out A's; Red Sox Blast Tribe

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer

Oakland isn't much of a city to visit, says Joe Coleman of the Washington Senators, but it's a good place to play cards and a better place to pitch.

"I don't mean to say anything bad about Oakland," Coleman said, "but there's nothing to do here. We woke up at 7 this morning (Friday) and there was nothing to do so we sat around and played cards."

But then Friday night rolled around and Coleman started pitching, and now Oakland wishes he hadn't come at all. The 21-year-old right-hander pitched the Senators to a 3-0 victory over Oakland for his first major league shutout.

Coleman, 8-9 last season and 3-0 in parts of two other seasons with the Senators, allowed only six hits and had only minor problems with the A's as he won his first game of 1968 without a loss.

Another second-year man, Gary Waslewski, also hurled a six-hitter and Boston clobbered Cleveland 9-2 in a game of hit batsmen in which the pitchers did almost as much hitting as the batters.

The California Angels edged Baltimore 2-1 in 10 innings on Bobby Knoop's hit in the only other game.

Detroit's game at Chicago was postponed because of cold weather and Minnesota and New York were not scheduled.

Coleman, who probably will be looking forward to another visit to Oakland, outdueled Jim Nash with the help of Frank Howard's third home run and the hitting and fielding of second baseman Frank Coggins.

Coggins, who had three hits, tripled in the fifth inning and scored on an infield out. After Howard made it 2-0 in the sixth, Coggins snared a line drive with two on and none out in the bottom of the inning and turned it into a double play. Then he made a diving stop for the third out.

Mike Epstein closed the scoring in the ninth with his first homer.

"I felt a little keyed up in the first inning," said Coleman, who gave up three unearned runs in 2-3 innings in his only other start, "but that was good. It made me pitch better."

"We really needed a complete game to give our bullpen a rest," said Washington Manager Jim Lemon after watching Coleman pitch only the second complete game for the Senators this season.

Waslewski fell behind 2-0 on Tony Horton's two-run homer, but Carl Yastrzemski's double tied the count in the third and his second double broke the tie in the fifth. The Red Sox hammered out 12 hits.

But Waslewski and Indian starter Sonny Siebert and reliever Hal Kutz got in some knucks, too. Waslewski hit two batters and Siebert and Kutz one each and other hitters found themselves hitting the dirt to avoid pitches despite warnings by the umpires.

Knoop's run-scoring single with one out off reliever Eddie Watt followed a walk to Bob Rodgers and a wild pitch.

George Brunet of the Angels and Bruce Howard of the Orioles battled through seven innings, both with four-hitters, before leaving with the score tied 1-1 on Rick Reichardt's second-inning homer for California and a sacrifice fly by Mark Belanger of Baltimore in the fourth.

American Wins Boston Marathon

By DAVE O'HARA

Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston A.A. Marathon championship is back in the United States for the first time in 11 years and only the second since World War II today because a pupil listened to his tutor.

Lanky Ambrose Burfoot, the New England intercollegiate cross country champion from Groton, Conn., proved he learned his lessons well from veteran Johnny Kelley as he captured the 72nd annual Hopkinton-to-Boston Classic Friday.

Burfoot automatically qualified for the U.S. Olympic marathon trial at Alamosa, Colo., in August. Clark, who said he suffered cramps going down the hills, hopes to qualify for the Olympics in either the marathon or the 10,000 meter run.

Wellsburg Scores 2 In Inning 11

WELLSBURG — East Liverpool's winning streak in baseball was stopped at six straight when the Potters dropped a tough, 5-4 decision to Wellsburg in an 11-inning game here Friday.

Tied at 3-3 entering the 11th frame, Coach Jim Potts' Potters scored the go ahead run in the 11th for a 4-3 lead but Wellsburg bounced back with a pair of runs in its half of the inning to hand East Liverpool its first setback of the season.

Jim Musuraca went all the way for the Potters giving up eight hits over 11 frames while striking out nine batters. In the final inning, Wellsburg put two bases on balls and a pair of singles together for the two runs.

Steve Metz, who relieved Steve Pollock in the 11th, singled in Ron Ujich to tie the score at 4-4. Larry Sadler then worked Musuraca for a walk that forced in the winning run.

Wellsburg has now won their last eight games after losing the first three, two of those to the Potters.

East Liverpool broke a 3-3 tie in the eleventh when Schuck doubled then later scored on Bob Bartram's single.

Wellsburg scored a single run in the first inning then two more in the second. The Potters tallied single runs in the second, fourth and sixth frames.

East Liverpool came up with nine hits and committed only two errors. Bill Montgomery and Musuraca led the Potters at the plate with two hits each. Eddy and Sadler hit safely twice for Wellsburg.

Western Beaver was coasting along on a 3-1 lead when the roof fell in. New Brighton put together two singles, a double, three errors and a walk for the big inning.

The Beavers outlived New Brighton, 10-4 but also committed six errors. Eli Rakas who relieved Rick Turyan was the losing pitcher while Randy Lake gained the mound victory.

LEGAL NOTICE

LEGAL NOTICE
The undersigned, executor, devisee, administrator, executor and assignee of Henry Rosenbaum, deceased, and Elizabeth May Rosenbaum, deceased, will take notice that on the 27th day of February, 1968, Francis H. Lang, as Administrator of the estate of Henry Rosenbaum, deceased, filed his petition with the Court of Common Pleas, Ohio, in the County of Cuyahoga, Ohio, in the case being Case No. 62171 A, Docket No. 173, entitled Francis H. Lang, Administrator of the estate of Henry Rosenbaum, deceased, vs. Margaret H. Pinner, et al., in said Court asking the direction of the Court respecting the property to be administered and distributed in said estate, and the determination of the rights of the parties in interest.

The prayer of said petition is that the Court determine who are the heirs of said Henry Rosenbaum, deceased, and Elizabeth May Rosenbaum, deceased, and to participate in the proceeds of the estate in said case, and for such other and further relief and orders as may be determined by the Court. Said petition is required to answer said petition on or before the 13th day of May, 1968, or judgment will be taken against the estate of Henry Rosenbaum, deceased, and Elizabeth May Rosenbaum, deceased.

E. L. Review, March 28, 30, April 6, 13, 20, 1968.

LEGAL NOTICE

The unknown heirs, legatees, devisees, administrators, executors and assigns of Henry Ronshausen, deceased, and Enor May Ronshausen, deceased, will take notice that on the 27th day of February, 1968, Francis H. Lang, as Administrator of the estate of Henry Ronshausen, deceased, filed his petition against them in the Probate Court of Columbiana County, Ohio, in the same being Case No. 8317 A, Docket of 73, Page 173, entitled Francis H. Lang, Administrator With the Will Annexed of the estate of Henry Ronshausen, deceased, vs. Margaret H. Pinney, et al., in said Court asking the direction of the Court respecting the property to be administered and distributed in the estate, the determination of the heirs in said estate, and the determination of the rights of the parties in interest.

The prayer of said petition is that the Court determine who are the heirs of said Henry Ronshausen, deceased, entitled by law to inherit his estate and to participate in the proceeds of the assets in said estate, and for said petition and for the relief and orders as may be determined by the Court. Said defendants are required to answer said petition on or before the 13th day of May, 1968, or judgment will be taken against them.

Francis H. Lang, Administrator of the estate of Henry Ronshausen, deceased.

E. L. Review: March 28, 30, April 6, 13, 20, 27, 1968.

ELECTRIC BULB

QUESTION: What's inside an electric light bulb?

ANSWER: The little men running across the top of our picture are symbols of electrons passing at great speed through an electric wire. This movement of electrons is the electric current. Some metals, such as copper, will conduct the current easily. Other kinds of wire will resist the current so that it has to force its way through; which is what the little men in the center are doing. They make so much heat forcing their way through that the wire becomes white hot and gives off light. This is how an incandescent electric light works. Look inside the large bulb at left and you will see a glass pedestal with two wires at each side and a little wavy wire across the top between them. An electric current passes easily up one of the side wires and easily down the other, but it has to fight its way across the wiggly wire at the top, which is made of a material to partly resist the current. So, this cross wire gets white hot, and this is what makes the lamp give off light. It was Thomas A. Edison who made the first practical light bulb in 1879.

New Officers Are Named At PTA Meeting

Robert Sullivan was elected president of the Hillcrest-Fairview Parent-Teacher Association when it met Thursday night in the school.

Other officers are: Mrs. Lois Hudson, first vice president; Samuel Linger, principal, second vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Hamilton, secretary, and Ronald Ross, treasurer.

The group voted to renew the subscription to the National Geographic magazine for the school for another year.

Linger reported on the spring festival to be held May 17 at Beacom Memorial gymnasium. Achievement tests will be given to second-graders only the week of May 13.

Mrs. Dianne DeFilippo reported $52 was realized from the bake sale last month.

Advance sale of tickets for rides at the carnival to be held May 24 and 25 is now under way. There will be a girl's and boy's prize for fourth through sixth graders who sell the most tickets. A pancake supper will be featured May 25. Volunteers are needed to help with the carnival, Sullivan said.

Mrs. Marilyn Swearingen's first-grade rhythm band played and sang four selections.

A centerpiece of fresh flowers, donated anonymously, was won by Ross. Mrs. Swearingen's first grade won the room count. Refreshments were served by first-grade mothers. The next meeting will be May 9.

Veteran Potter Honored At Fete Upon Retirement

Arthur Grogg, 65, of Ridge Ave., Newell, was feted by 16 of his co-workers during a party at Plant 7 Friday noon to mark his retirement from the Homer Laughlin China Co.

Grogg, a 44-year veteran of the pottery industry, was a liner—a trade he learned through a government vocational training program at the Edwin N. Knowles China Co. in 1924.

After 19 years service with Knowles, Grogg went to work at Homer Laughlin, where he has been employed the last 25 years.

Born in Kingwood, W. Va., Grogg was married after he was separated from the Navy, and he and his wife then moved to Newell in 1914.

The Groggs have six children and 13 grandchildren.

Gov. Rhodes Enjoys Pancakes At Festival

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes spent 45 minutes Friday at the Geauga County Maple Festival and ate six giant pancakes.

"Marvelous," the governor exclaimed as he ate the last pancake. "Nothing I enjoy more than this."

He also took part in dedication ceremonies at the University of Akron for a new $10.2

million science and engineering center.

Armco Says Quarter Earnings Over 1967

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Armco Steel Corp. earnings for the first quarter of 1968 topped those of the comparable 1967 period, but failed to keep pace with 1968 sales and shipments.

Armco officials reported Friday that earnings for the first 1968 period ended March 31 totaled $15.51 million, up from the $15.19 million of last year's first quarter.

New Officers Are Named At PTA Meeting

Robert Sullivan was elected president of the Hillcrest-Fairview Parent-Teacher Association when it met Thursday night in the school.

Other officers are: Mrs. Lois Hudson, first vice president; Samul Linger, principal, second vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Hamilton, secretary, and Ronald Ross, treasurer.

The group voted to renew the subscription to the National Geographic magazine for the school for another year.

Linger reported on the spring festival to be held May 17 at Beacom Memorial gymnasium. Achievement tests will be given to second-graders only the week of May 13.

Mrs. Dianne DeFilippo reported $52 was realized from the bake sale last month.

Advance sale of tickets for rides at the carnival to be held May 24 and 25 is now under way. There will be a girl's and boy's prize for fourth through sixth graders who sell the most tickets. A pancake supper will be featured May 25. Volunteers are needed to help with the carnival, Sullivan said.

Mrs. Marijyn Swearingen's first-grade rhythm band played and sang four selections.

A centerpiece of fresh flowers, donated anonymously, was won by Ross. Mrs. Swearingen's first grade won the room count. Refreshments were served by first-grade mothers. The next meeting will be May 9.

Veteran Potter Honored At Fete Upon Retirement

Arthur Grogg, 65, of Ridge Ave., Newell, was feted by 16 of his co-workers during a party at Plant 7 Friday noon to mark his retirement from the Homer Laughlin China Co.

Grogg, a 44-year veteran of the pottery industry, was a liner—a trade he learned through a government vocational training program at the Edwin N. Knowles China Co. in 1924.

After 19 years service with Knowles, Grogg went to work at Homer Laughlin, where he has been employed the last 25 years.

Born in Kingwood, W. Va., Grogg was married after he was separated from the Navy, and he and his wife then moved to Newell in 1914.

The Groggs have six children and 13 grandchildren.

Gov. Rhodes Enjoys Pancakes At Festival

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes spent 45 minutes Friday at the Geauga County Maple Festival and ate six giant pancakes.

"Marvellous," the governor exclaimed as he ate the last pancake. "Nothing I enjoy more than this."

He also took part in dedication ceremonies at the University of Akron for a new $10.2 million science and engineering center.

Armco Says Quarter Earnings Over 1967

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Armco Steel Corp. earnings for the first quarter of 1968 topped those of the comparable 1967 period, but failed to keep pace with 1968 sales and shipments.

Armco officials reported Friday that earnings for the first 1968 period ended March 31 totaled $15.51 million, up from the $15.19 million of last year's first quarter.

New York City is made up of five counties, which are usually referred to by their borough names.
